Unsolved Paxton Murder Is County's Top News Story Of '62; July Hailstorms Second

The yet unsolved murder of Mrs. Rosalie Isabella Paxton, 40, wife of Kermit Paxton, in their ranch type home, near Gardners, on the afternoon of October 24, was the "top news story" in Adams County during 1962, according to tabulation of votes for the ten top news stories of the year cast by members of the editorial staff of The Gettysburg Times.

Police are still searching for the murderer. Despite a $1,000 reward for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the murderer, police have made no report so far of anyone who might be a claimant for the reward.

HAILSTORM SECOND
Second in the "Story of the Year" balloting was the hailstorm which struck the county in July. In fact there were two hailstorms—the first occurred in the Cash-town section about 6 p.m. July 18. Hail ranged in size from hickorynuts to a half dollar. Some residents shoveled up the hailstones and put them in refrigerators as evidence of the unusual storm which ruined crops, ripped fruit from trees and damaged other fruit.

But the July 18 storm was just a preview of what was to come five days later, at about 6 p.m. on July 23. Then the worst hailstorm in the memory of residents swept parts of the county. It came through the Cashtown-Orrtanna area, heading south and east and left in the county in the Harney area. Enroute it produced hailstones in the Cashtown-Orrtanna area as big as baseballs.

The storm, pounding for 45 minutes and longer, stripped trees of fruit, leaves and in some instances bark. At one home 28 windows were shattered by the storm. The worst window breakage, because it had the most windows, occurred at the Musselman Greenhouse near Orrtanna. Hardly a pane of glass remained in the 175-foot structure and 10 tons of soil had to be replaced because of splinters of glass in it after the storm. Thousands of dollars worth of flowers were also destroyed. Damage from the storm conservatively could be estimated at $100,000.

DOUBLE RIDING VICTORY

No. 3 in the tabulation was the election of Harry D. Ridinger as assemblyman from Adams County. Ridinger first won the Republican nomination from the incumbent veteran assemblyman, Francis Worley, then defeated Atty. Eugene R. Hartman in the election that was not settled until two weeks after the voting. Ridinger led by 51 votes when the unofficial count was made election night. When the official count began it was discovered that Biglerville had apparently miscounted and a recount there, plus the rest of the official count, dropped Ridinger's lead to 10 votes. Then next week the military and absentee votes were counted and Ridinger's victory finally was by 112 votes.

The tabulation of the votes for "10 top stories of the year" by The Times newsmen — none of whom agreed with the others in the placing of all the stories — showed fourth place going to the "County School Plan." That title covered a summer of discussions and activities on Act 561 by many organizations in the county, and the final decision of the county board to submit a plan to the state that the county be divided into two school districts. Act 561 required that the county submit a plan for school reorganization which would provide districts with not less than 4,000 pupils. None of the present score of districts has that number of students.

BUCK MADE LIST

Fifth place honors went to the November 26 visit of a button buck to Gettysburg. The deer apparently was started while the fire siren was tested while the visiting deer was in the alley beside the fire house. It took off, struck the rear of the Columbia Gas building, ran up steps to the apartments above Esler's Store on Baltimore St., crossed a roof, went into the second-floor apartment of Mrs. Jessie Schutt, leaped out a second-story window, breaking an awning in its fall to the sidewalk, crossed the street, ran through the G. C. Murphy store and finally was captured in the basement of the Murphy building.

FIREMEN HERE SET NEW MARK WITH 116 CALLS

The Gettysburg Fire Department responded to 116 alarms during 1962, Secretary William G. Weaver reported today. This was the most ever received by the local department in one year. The previous high was 102 in 1953. The yearly average over the last 10 years was 75. The increase in 1962 was attributed to the rash of 31 grass fires during the dry spring and early summer.

Of the 116 alarms answered, only 33 came from within the borough itself. As usual, the southwestern portion of the borough had the most alarms with 13. This section was followed by the southeastern with eight alarms and the northwestern with seven. The northeastern section called in only five alarms.

The 74 rural alarms were on or near roads leaving Gettysburg as follows: U.S. 30 east, 16; Biglerville Rd., 12; Mummasburg Rd. and U.S. 15 north, nine each; Fairfield Rd., seven; Huntersdown Rd., five; U.S. 30 West, four; Taneytown, Littlestown, Hanover and Table Rock, two each, and Knox Lynn Rd., U.S. 15 south and the Water Works Rd., one each. The remaining nine rural alarms were from these county towns: Huntersdown, four; Orrtanna, two, and from Fairfield, Twin Oaks, Idaville and Littlestown, one each. Half these were to assist other companies.

MOST IN DECEMBER

For 71 of the alarms, the booster tanks were sufficient to extinguish them. Only seven times were the trucks required to "hook up." For seven alarms, mostly car fires, the hand tanks did the jobs. Upon responding to 26 of the alarms it was found that the department's services were not needed. The remaining four alarms were rescue calls—hunting a lost child, a man who had strayed from home and extracting victims of car wrecks.

As the records have shown year after year, most alarms are received from 12 noon to 6 p.m. (Continued On Page 3)

Skidding Autos In Two Crashes

State police from the local substation were called Saturday evening to two accidents.

At 5:20 p.m. Della P. Taylor, 72, Marked Tree, Ark., was driving slowly on the Harrisburg Rd. a half mile north of here near the bridge over Rock Creek. At that moment Benjamin F. Bateman, 55, Tyner R. 1, N. C., came up behind the more slowly moving car, sought to brake, and skidded into the auto ahead. Damage was estimated at $150 to Bateman's car and $25 to the Taylor vehicle.

At 6:30 o'clock a similar accident occurred on Twp. Rt. 348 four miles west of here off the Lincoln Highway. Police said Lawrence C. Redding, 49, Gettysburg R. 3, was driving north when his car skidded into the rear of a slower moving car driven north by Leroy Williams, 49, Gettysburg R. 3, and it in turn skidded into a parked car owned by Irvin Reichenbach, 32, Shamokin. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Redding vehicle, $100 to the Williams car and $50 to the parked auto.

SNOW CREWS BATTLE DRIFTS OVER WEEKEND

Highway crews continued today a battle against snow that began Saturday morning at 7:30 and kept up throughout the weekend. The snow stopped falling early Saturday evening but the winds that came afterward led the 104 members of the state highways snow crew, with 44 trucks and 14 graders and township and borough snow crews through an up and down battle that never ended for the sleep-deprived men.

This morning Highways Superintendent Clyde Garber directed a roundup of all bulldozers that could be hired to take over on drifts that had become so hard they could no longer be moved by truck or grader. At that moment the main highways were open, 30 per cent of the secondary roads were closed and 55 per cent of the rural roads were closed. Traffic on some roads listed as open was one-way only at many points.

BLOW SHUT QUICKLY

At that, the roads were in better shape than at one point Sunday night when it was estimated that one-half the secondary roads and 75 per cent of the rural roads were drifted shut.

The battle continued throughout the weekend. Crews opened roads and found them blowing shut behind them.

At one time Sunday all main roads were open, all secondary roads were open and the crews had a good many of the rural roads open when they received calls to come back to the main roads. The wind had increased and the main highways were blowing shut.

UP TO 8 INCHES

Gettysburg borough workmen had cleaned the town well when they too started to receive calls, this morning from the Colt park area, that streets which had been opened were again shut. Similar experiences plagued township crews.

The state highways department estimated eight inches of new snow fell Saturday in the Sunshine Trail, Fairfield, and Mt. Newman areas, with smaller quantities elsewhere in the county. But the gusts of wind that started when

COURT RULES ROAD OF LITTLE USE SINCE '44

The Adams County Court Saturday handed down an opinion finding that a road through land of Robert C. and Mary P. Lott in Menallen Twp. had been established over the years as a public road, and thus should be left open even though it apparently has had little or no use since before 1944.

The decree of court directing that the road should remain open and that the Lotts should pay the costs was handed down in an equity action brought against the Lotts by Donald R. and Faye E. Black who own approximately 21 acres of land in Menallen Twp. west of the Lott property known as the Piney Mountain Farm and purchased by the Lotts in 1944. Also involved is a house tract owned by Mrs. Lott since 1952.

The court in its opinion ruled that the road in question at one time continued across the house tract and on to property of Hiram Showers and Andrew Black and westward to the top of the mountain where it intersected with what is now a hard road leading to Pine Grove.

The court further ruled that apparently no one has resided on the land beyond the Lott building "during the last 25 to 40 years."

The court ruled that the testimony of the defendants and plaintiffs did not contradict each other, that at some time prior to 1944 general use of the road was discontinued and trees and brush grew up in the roadway, but that the road was used by the public generally from at least 1901 to at least 1932, a period of more than 21 years and after a road had been open for more than 21 years of usage no individual can close it.

Call Fire Truck For Stalled Auto

Bonneauville firemen went to the rescue of four stranded Midway motorists and a Midway tow truck this morning about two o'clock.

The car bearing the four Midway residents hit a snow drift, and they then phoned to George Becker in Midway to bring his tow truck. The Midway car was about 2 1/2 miles from Bonneauville on the New Oxford Rd. Becker was unable to get this truck through a drift about a mile from Bonneauville and went to a phone nearby to call the quick call center here to alert Bonneauville. Answering the call Bonneauville firemen took their four wheeled drive engine out the road. It plowed through the drifts, rescued the tow truck, took it along to the stalled car, drove around enough to level snow so Becker could turn around, then broke through the snow so the tow truck and towed car could return to Bonneauville.

A stop was made by everybody at the fire house in Bonneauville to thaw out before the tow truck and car continued to Midway.

Unsolved Paxton Murder Is County's Top News Story Of '62; July Hailstorms Second

The yet unsolved murder of Mrs. Rosalie Isabella Paxton, 40, wife of Kermit Paxton, in their ranch type home, near Gardner, on the afternoon of October 24, was the "top news story" in Adams County during 1962, according to tabulation of votes for the ten top news stories of the year cast by members of the editorial staff of The Gettysburg Times.

Police are still searching for the murderer. Despite a $1,000 reward for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the murderer, police have made no report so far of anyone who might be a claimant for the reward.

HAILSTORM SECOND

Second in the "Story of the Year" balloting was the hailstorm which struck the county in July. In fact there were two hailstorms—the first occurred in the Cash-town section about 6 p.m. July 18. Hail ranged in size from hickorynuts to a half dollar. Some residents shoveled up the hailstones and put them in refrigerators as evidence of the unusual storm which ruined crops, ripped fruit from trees and damaged other fruit.

But the July 18 storm was just a preview of what was to come five days later, at about 6 p.m. on July 23. Then the worst hailstorm in the memory of residents swept parts of the county. It came through the Cashtown-Orrtanna area, heading south and east and left in the county in the Harney area. Enroute it produced hailstones in the Cashtown-Orrtanna area as big as baseballs.

The storm, pounding for 45 minutes and longer, stripped trees of fruit, leaves and in some instances bark. At one home 28 windows were shattered by the storm. The worst window breakage, because it had the most windows, occurred at the Musselman Greenhouse near Orrtanna. Hardly a pane of glass remained in the 175-foot structure and 10 tons of soil had to be replaced because of splinters of glass in it after the storm. Thousands of dollars worth of flowers were also destroyed. Damage from the storm conservatively could be estimated at $1,000,000.

DOUBLE RIDINGER VICTORY

No. 3 in the tabulation was the election of Harry D. Ridinger as assemblyman from Adams County. Ridinger first won the Republican nomination from the incumbent veteran assemblyman, Francis Worley, then defeated Atty. Eugene R. Hartman in the election that was not settled until two weeks after the voting. Ridinger led by 51 votes when the unofficial count was made election night. When the official count began it was discovered that Biglerville had apparently miscounted and a recount there, plus the rest of the official count, dropped Ridinger's lead to 10 votes. Then next week the military and absentee votes were counted and Ridinger's victory finally was by 112 votes.

The tabulation of the votes for "10 top stories of the year" by The Times newsmen — none of whom agreed with the others in the placing of all the stories—showed fourth place going to the "County School Plan." That title covered a summer of discussions and activities on Act 561 by many organizations in the county, and the final decision of the county board to submit a plan to the state that the county be divided into two school districts. Act 561 required that the county submit a plan for school reorganization which would provide districts with not less than 4,000 pupils. None of the present score of districts has that number of students.

BUCK MADE LIST

Fifth place honors went to the November 26 visit of a button buck to Gettysburg. The deer apparently was startled when the fire siren was tested while the visiting deer was in the alley beside the fire house. It took off, struck the rear of the Columbia Gas building, ran up steps to the apartments above Estep's Store on Baltimore St., crossed a roof, went into the second-floor apartment of Mrs. Jessie Schutt, leaped out a second-story window, breaking an awning in its fall to the sidewalk, crossed the street, ran through the G. C. Murphy store and finally was captured in the basement of the Murphy building.

FIREMEN HERE SET NEW MARK WITH 116 CALLS

The Gettysburg Fire Department responded to 116 alarms during 1962, Secretary William G. Weaver reported today. This was the most ever received by the local department in one year. The previous high was 102 in 1953. The yearly average over the last 10 years was 75. The increase in 1962 was attributed to the rash of 31 grass fires during the dry spring and early summer.

Of the 116 alarms answered, only 33 came from within the borough itself. As usual, the southwestern portion of the borough had the most alarms with 13. This section was followed by the southeastern with eight alarms and the northeastern section called in only five alarms.

The 74 rural alarms were on or near roads leaving Gettysburg as follows: U.S. 30 east, 16; Biglerville Rd., 12; Mummastown Rd. and U.S. 15 north, nine each; Fairfield Rd., seven; Hunterstown Rd., five; U.S. 30 West, four; Taneytown, Littlestown, Hanover and Table Rock, two each; and Knox-Lynn Rd., U.S. 15 south and the Water Works Rd., one each. The remaining nine rural alarms were from these county towns: Hunterstown, four; Orrtanna, two, and from Fairfield, Twin Oaks, Idaville and Littlestown, one each. Half these were to assist other companies.

For 71 of the alarms, the booster tanks were sufficient to extinguish them. Only seven times were the trucks required to "hook up." For seven alarms, mostly car fires, the hand tanks did the jobs. Upon responding to 26 of the alarms it was found that the department's services were not needed. As the records have shown year after year, most alarms are received from 12 noon to 6 p.m. (Continued On Page 3)

Skidding Autos In Two Crashes

State police from the local substation were called Saturday evening to two accidents.

At 5:20 p.m. Della P. Taylor, 72, Marked Tree, Ark., was driving slowly on the Harrisburg Rd. a half mile north of here near the bridge over Rock Creek. At that moment Benjamin F. Bateman, 55, Tyner R. 1, N. C., came up behind the more slowly moving car, sought to brake, and skidded into the auto ahead. Damage was estimated at $150 to Bateman's car and $25 to the Taylor vehicle.

At 6:30 o'clock a similar accident occurred on Twp. Rt. 348 four miles west of here off the Lincoln Highway. Police said Lawrence C. Redding, 49, Gettysburg R. 3, was driving north when his car skidded into the rear of a slower moving car driven north by Leroy Williams, 49, Gettysburg R. 3, and it in turn skidded into a parked car owned by Irvin Reichenbach, 32, Shamokin. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Redding vehicle, $100 to the Williams car and $50 to the parked auto.

20 Inches Of Snow, Below Zero Weather Slashing Winds Sweep Most Of Eastern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Winter unleashed its fury on the Eastern section of the nation in the last hours of the year.

Below-zero temperatures were reported today in many spots. High velocity winds tore down power lines, may have swept a youth off a ferryboat to apparent death, and overturned a motorboat whose operator drowned.

The powerful gusts also ripped off a movie house roof, toppled a huge construction crane and literally blew a river from its bed, stranding numerous boats.

The wintry blast also brought fresh accumulations of snow in some places.

21-INCH FALL

Bangor, Maine, had at least 21 inches of new snow on top of the 15 inches previously fallen. Howling winds piled up drifts as high as 20 feet. The state's third largest city, population 50,000, was "just about paralyzed," according to one newsmen.

SNOW CREWS BATTLE DRIFTS OVER WEEKEND

Highway crews continued today a battle against snow that began Saturday morning at 7:30 and kept up throughout the weekend.

The snow stopped falling early Saturday evening but the winds that came afterward led the 104 members of the state highways snow crew, with 44 trucks and 14 graders, with township and borough snow crews through an up and down battle that never ended for the sleep-robbed men.

This morning Highways Superintendent Clyde Garber directed a roundup of all bulldozers that could be hired to take over on drifts that had become so hard they could no longer be moved by truck or grader. At that moment the main highways were open, 30 per cent of the secondary roads were closed and 55 per cent of the rural roads were closed. Traffic on some roads listed as open was one-way only at many points.

BLOW SHUT QUICKLY

At that, the roads were in better shape than at one point Sunday night when it was estimated that one-half the secondary roads and 75 per cent of the rural roads were drifted shut.

The battle continued throughout the weekend. Crews opened roads and found them blowing shut behind them.

At one time Sunday all main roads were open, all secondary roads were open and the crews had a good many of the rural roads open when they received calls to come back to the main roads. The wind had increased and the main highways were blowing shut.

UP TO 8 INCHES

Gettysburg borough workmen had cleaned the town well when they too started to receive calls, this morning from the Colt park area, that streets which had been opened were again shut. Similar experiences plagued township crews.

The state highways department estimated eight inches of new snow fell Saturday in the Sunshine Trail, Fairfield, and Mt. Newman areas, with smaller quantities elsewhere in the county. But the gusts of wind that started when (Continued On Page 3)

COURT RULES ROAD OF LITTLE USE SINCE '44

The Adams County Court Saturday handed down an opinion finding that a road through land of Robert C. and Mary P. Lott in Menallen Twp. had been established over the years as a public road, and thus should be left open even though it apparently has had little or no use since before 1944.

The decree of court directing that the road should remain open and that the Lotts should pay the costs was handed down in an equity action brought against the Lotts by Donald R. and Faye E. Black who own approximately 21 acres of land in Menallen Twp. west of the Lott property known as the Piney Mountain Farm and purchased by the Lotts in 1944. Also involved is a house tract owned by Mrs. Lott since 1952.

The court in its opinion ruled that the road in question at one time continued across the house tract and on to property of Hiram Showers and Andrew Black and westward to the top of the mountain where it intersected with what is now a hard road leading to Pine Grove.

The court further ruled that apparently no one has resided on the land beyond the Lott building "during the last 25 to 40 years."

The court ruled that the testimony of the defendants and plaintiffs did not contradict each other, that at some time prior to 1944 general use of the road was discontinued and trees and brush grew up in the roadway, but that the road was used by the public generally from at least 1901 to at least 1932, a period of more than 21 years and after a road had been open for more than 21 years of usage no individual can close it.

MRS. HENNIG DIES AT 77 ON SATURDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hennig, 77, owner of Hennig's Bakery, died Saturday evening at 6:40 o'clock at her home, 35 York St. She had been in declining health for the last six months.

Widow of William A. Hennig, who died December 10, 1930, she had operated the bakery business on her own since that time and had been associated with her husband in the operation of the bakery from 1909.

Daughter of the late David H. and Elizabeth D. (Sweeney) Yount, she was reared by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Catherine Sweeney, in Gettysburg, due to the death of her mother at her birth. She attended the Gettysburg public schools and attended high school in Washington, D.C.

MRS. HENNIG

Both her mother and her grandmother had nursed wounded during the Civil War, one of them a captain attached to a Michigan Infantry outfit. When the 50th reunion of the brigade was held, the group named Mrs. Hennig a "daughter of the regiment" because of the aid given the wounded by her mother and grandmother.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp gains by Baltimore & Ohio issues on merger news highlighted a turbulent and confused stock market session today as 1962 trading drew near its end. Turnover was active.

FIREMEN CALLED

Gettysburg firemen were called this morning about 8 o'clock when a tractor-trailer caught fire on Lincoln Square. Firemen said an axle apparently broke and rubbed against the brake bands causing the fire which was quickly extinguished.

Call Fire Truck For Stalled Auto

Bonneauville firemen went to the rescue of four stranded Midway motorists and a Midway tow truck this morning about two o'clock.

The car bearing the four Midway residents hit a snow drift, and they then phoned to George Becker in Midway to bring his tow truck. The Midway car was about 2 1/2 miles from Bonneauville on the New Oxford Rd. Becker was unable to get this truck through a drift about a mile from Bonneauville and went to a phone nearby to call the quick call center here to alert Bonneauville. Answering the call Bonneauville firemen took their four wheeled drive engine out the road. It plowed through the drifts, rescued the tow truck, took it along to the stalled car, drove around enough to level snow so Becker could turn around, then broke through the snow so the tow truck and towed car could return to Bonneauville.

A stop was made by everybody at the fire house in Bonneauville to thaw out before the tow truck and car continued to Midway.

MERCURY SETS 45-YEAR MARK THIS MORNING

Ending with the coldest December 31 here in 45 years, December went into the weather records here as a month that was much colder than normal and the eighth month of this year to fall short on rainfall.

This morning's low of four degrees above zero made it the coldest morning here so far this season and the coldest December 31 in Gettysburg since 1917 when the mercury dropped five degrees below zero for a record for the date that has stood since.

This is the third consecutive December with below normal temperatures but the average temperature for this month of 29.25 degrees was considerably above the 40-year mark set here in 1960. Normal December weather brings an average temperature of 34.4 degrees.

YEAR SHORT ON RAIN

December's shortage of rainfall brought the 1962 total to only 36.65 inches which is 4.36 inches short of normal. Only four months this year had normal rainfall or a surplus.

A good part of this month's precipitation came in the form of snow. Saturday's snow which measured 5 1/2 inches here was the heaviest of the month and brought the month's total to 14.5 inches. With 1.5 inches measured in November, the season's total is 16 inches.

This month has averaged nearly three degrees colder each day than December of last year and more than five degrees below normal each day. On 11 days this month temperatures never rose above the freezing mark.

The warmest day of the month was December 1 when the mercury rose to 65 degrees. The other extreme was reached this morning at four above zero, the second coldest reading ever taken here on this date.

Fog, sleet, slippery roads and snow drifts have been familiar marks of December weather here.

IDAVILLE HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE TODAY AS 6 FLEE SAFELY

Mr. and Mrs. Dale R. Cooley, Idaville, their daughter-in-law and three grandchildren escaped in night clothes early this morning when their two-story log home was destroyed by fire.

The family fled to the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reynolds, across the street from the house but anticipate residing eventually in a trailer next door to the destroyed Cooley home.

Biglerville, Aspers, Bendersville, York Springs and Gettysburg firemen were called out in three below zero weather to fight the blaze. Principal need for the equipment was to provide water. Biglerville firemen, first on the scene, used the water they had brought in their trucks, as did Aspers and Bendersville firemen. York Springs and Gettysburg were called in for water when attempts of a state snowplow to open a road to a pond nearby failed, and the firemen had to institute a shuttle from Idaville to the C. H. Musselman pond at Gardner to take water to the scene.

SMOKE AROUND MOTHER

Because of the bitter cold and because the blazing home was beyond saving, firemen finally confined their efforts principally to preventing any spread of the flames to nearby properties. Heavy winds sent snow swirling around the 50 shivering firemen, and at the same time sent sparks streaming.

Biglerville Fire Chief Sterling Roth said that, because of the cold Sunday night, the mother of the three small children slept in their room rather than her own to watch over them through the night.

The mother, Mrs. Donald Cooley, was awakened a little before 5 o'clock this morning by smoke filling the children's room. She called her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cooley, who came to the room and picked up the smallest, 14-month-old Jane Cooley, while Mrs. Donald Cooley wrapped extra blankets around six-year-old Donna and three-year-old Cindy.

LOSE POSSESSIONS

The entire family fled down an open stairway and out the front door of the house as smoke and flame began to fill the rest of the house.

Chief Roth said the fire apparently

"Legislators" Outnumber Lawyers In State Assembly

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP) — Doctors and lawyers—but no Indian chiefs—will grace the capitol halls next Tuesday.

That's the day the 147th session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly convenes. For everybody else it is New Year's Day. The proximity of the morning after New Year's Eve and the banging of the opening gavel at noon is greeted with mixed emotions.

CHAPMAN ABSENT

This will be the first session of the legislature since 1930 that an Indian chief of sorts will be absent from the legislative chambers. Dr. Leroy Chapman, Warren, who retired this year after 32 years in the Senate, was an honorary chief of Pennsylvania's own Complanter Indians.

Chapman, a Republican, won his turkey feathers for backing the cause of the Complanters in the legislature, namely an annual $300 appropriation for road maintenance on the Indian acres. The bill generally was approved with a happy warwhoop from the lawmakers.

Chapman dovetailed nicely into the old doctor, lawyer, Indian chief rhyme. He was a physician. He was replaced in the Senate by lawyer Richard C. Frame, also a Republican.

The list of occupations of lawmakers in the 1963 legislature is a catalogue of state job opportunities. Most of the solons list their private occupations separate from their lawmaking functions.

ATTORNEYS OUTNUMBERED

Despite that, the 1963 assembly will score a significant first, at least in the House. For the first time since the Whiskey Rebellion (at least), attorneys are outnumbered by some other occupation. That other job is "legislator."

For the 1963 session 35 House members listed their business or occupation as legislator. The other 175 listed dentist, mortician, or whatever they decided they were. The total self-identified legislators for 1963 compares to only 14 in the previous house listing two years ago.

That gives the legislators a five-member edge over the attorneys.

The upsurge in professional legislators also lends credence to an argument in 1961 over a boost in legislative reimbursement from $6,000 to $9,000 a year. During debate on the pay raise, supporters

URGES EFFORT FOR MORE AID FOR EDUCATION

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's top school administrators were told today that the state's major educational organizations must make a unified effort for greater financial support of education.

"Such joint action is practically a necessity if we are to achieve the things we feel are needed for education in Pennsylvania," said Dr. O. H. Aurnand, Lancaster County school superintendent.

Aurnand was chairman of a Joint Action Committee formed by the three major organizations to develop a legislative program for 1963.

WANT HIGHER SALARIES

The committee's recommendations—calling for a multi-million dollar program of higher state subsidies, increased teacher salaries and expanded facilities for higher education—were disclosed Thursday night.

The committee was made up of six representatives each from the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the Pennsylvania School Boards Association and the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The proposals were presented today to the chief school administrators section of the PSEA during the second day of the PSEA's 110th annual convention.

NEED COMMON GOALS

Aurnand is the new president of the chief school administrators section.

Aurnand told the group that the biggest reason for failure to achieve greater state support in the past has been the inability of the three organizations to work for common goals.

Specifically, the Joint Action Committee proposed that:

- State subsidies be increased to the level of actual costs of instruction.
- Teachers be given increases ranging from $300 to $900 a year.
- The state create a community (two-year) college system provide for post-high school technical training and adult retraining.

$270 MILLIONS

The costs could run as high as $270 million a year.

The subsidy increase alone is estimated to cost from $100 million to $200 million annually.

The joint action committee was composed of six members each from the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association and the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The school administrators meeting was one of several scheduled during the second day of the 110th annual PSEA convention.

$30 MILLION FOR PAY

The chief school administrators group is one of several sections within the PSEA, which represents some 70,000 teachers and administrators throughout the state.

In the major activity of opening day Thursday, the PSEA's classroom teachers department held its business session and went on record in opposition to increased standards for teachers until salary increases are forthcoming.

Estimates on the cost of the proposed salary increase range from $30 million to $70 million a year.

They specifically mentioned the requirement that teachers have 24 hours of post-graduate work, effective next school year, before being eligible for a permanent certificate.

ELECTION HELD

An attempt to duplicate last year's action when the teachers voted down an expression of appreciation to Gov. Lawrence for his efforts on behalf of education failed this year.

The teachers elected Roy W. Brandau, 42-year-old Garden Spot High School (Lancaster County) teacher, a native of Hazleton, as their president for 1963.

Joseph Seligman, assistant supervising principal for Moon Union (Allegheny County) school district, is opposed for election as 1963 PSEA president.

The joint Action Committee report sidestepped the controversial issue of compulsory school reorganization.

It agreed "there is a basic need for a school district reorganization plan," but did not speak of mandating it.

180 Holiday Deaths Are Reported Up To Noon Today

Traffic	180
Fires	44
Miscellaneous	49
Total	273

The nation's traffic death toll in the first half of the long New Year weekend appeared running below pre-holiday estimates by safety experts despite a spurt in fatalities Sunday.

A survey of accidental deaths since 6 p.m. (local time) Friday showed 178 killed in traffic; 42 in fires and 48 in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total was 268, Tuesday.

Snowy, windy and cold weather made driving conditions hazardous in broad areas in the Northeast and sections of the Midwest.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 420 to 480 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the 102-hour New Year holiday period. The record traffic toll for a four-day New Year period was 409 in the 1956-57 observance.

The traffic death toll in the first half of the current holiday was far less than for the comparable period during the extended Christmas weekend when more than 300 fatalities were reported. The final Christmas tally showed 646 traffic deaths.

Last year's New Year holiday covered three days and the final tabulation showed 337 traffic fatalities, 83 fire deaths and 59 killed in miscellaneous accidents, for a total of 479.

A passenger on the Staten Island ferry in New York City reported seeing a teen-age boy swept overboard by the fierce winds. A search of the harbor did not immediately produce a body.

A man drowned when winds capsized his motorboat off Oyster Bay, N.Y., on Long Island's north shore.

In New City, N.Y., a movie house roof went flying, and a broom happened to the roof of a Brooklyn, Conn., shopping center. No one was hurt in either case.

CRANE TOPPLES
In New York City, a 150-foot construction crane toppled on its side. No one was injured.

Six persons were injured when a bus on the New York State Thruway was caught by a gust of wind and crashed into a culvert.

Twelve miles of highway between Conway and Chocoma, N.H., were strewn with fallen utility poles and trees. State police, working in from both ends of the blocked area, brought out some stranded motorists.

SOME SUPERB TV SHOWS IN '62; SOME BAD

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Another 12 months of television history has been made—thousands and thousands of hours of entertainment, news and education carried by electronic magic into the nation's homes.

There was an amazing total of 8,831 of these hours on network television during the peak opening piling hours alone. Most of the programs were run of the mill, some were distressingly bad, but some were superb.

There were fewer dramatic shows, but there was real drama. It came when the cameras were focused on the blastoff of manned space shots, and on the face of the President of the United States alerting the public to a national crisis.

MORE PEOPLE WATCHED

More people watched television than ever before, and the more they watched, the more critical they became.

Critics went on hammering about the quality of television, calling for more culture and education. But viewers continued to turn to their sets primarily for entertainment: for sports, Westerns, parlor games, stories about doctors and comedies.

Violence diminished, children's programs improved in quality, villains were more likely to be mentally ill than evil for evil's sake. Commercials tended to be more soft-sell than hard, except in the household remedies area.

All in all, it was a busy television year. It reached heights on some occasions. On a day-to-day basis, it managed to amuse most of the people some of the time. Not a bad record.

Recommended today: "Match Game," premiere, NBC, 4-4:25 p.m. (EST)—new game show with Gene Rayburn, host; King of the Jungle, ABC, 9-10 p.m.; "Tonight Show," NBC, 11-11:35 a.m.—live pick-ups of New Year's celebrations from Times Square, and musical program.

FIREMEN HERE

and 1962 was no exception. This year 55 alarms were received during these hours. Thirty-one alarms came in between 6 p.m. and midnight; 26 from 6 a.m. to noon, and only four from midnight to 6 a.m.

Windy March saw 17 calls received for the local fire department. December was first, however, with 18 calls. The other months showed 14 in April, 10 in February, nine in May and July, August and October calls numbered eight in each of those months, January and November seven each, June six and September four.

TWO LIVES LOST

During 1962 no one day of the week showed a preponderance of alarms. The tally runs from 13 on Sundays, through Thursdays and Saturdays with 16 each; Tuesdays with 17, and finally 18 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

There were 31 grass and woods fires; 19 car and truck fires; 15 house fires; 12 chimney fires; 13 barn fires; five each house trailers and trash fires; four commercial plant fires; three college fraternity house fires; two each for heating equipment, restaurant and store fires, and one each for household appliances, private garages, sheds, apartment, college dormitory and wooden forms for bridge construction. The remaining four alarms were rescue calls.

The most damaging fires to which the department responded included the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house; a warehouse fire in Littlestown; Krape's barn; the McClay house in Twin Oaks; the barn fire that resulted from the big power failure along the York pike; a house in Fairfield; a house north of U.S. 30 East; house trailers at Pfeiffer's tile yard and the Bobo trailer on the Fairfield road; Criswell house in Huntersdown; house trailer near Table Rock; cottage dormitory at the college; house in Orianna; wooden forms on new bridge on the Bonneauville road; McDermit's mixing plant; George Scott's barn; the Logan Brent house on the Mummasburg road, and the Cooley house fire at Idaville this morning.

Firemen suffered only minor injuries in fighting all of these fires but, two infants died in the Bobo trailer fire.

PRO ELEVEN'S PRAISED FOR TITLE BATTLE

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a game both teams were proud of—the losers as well as the winners—a close, savagely-fought game.

"They couldn't have been better," said coach Vince Lombardi of his Green Bay Packers, who had just won their second straight National Football League championship Sunday with a 16-7 triumph over the New York Giants.

"They vindicated themselves. There was no humiliation today," was losing coach Allie Sherman's firmly-intoned comment on his club, reflecting on the crushing 37-0 defeat the Giants suffered at Green Bay in last year's title playoff.

Then Sherman went on to give a capsule sum-up of the punishing battle, played in icy winds on Yankee Stadium's frozen turf: " . . . We were so close at times. But we lost out because we didn't finish up and they did."

WELL DRILLED

Both sides were supremely prepared for this big one. They were ready physically and mentally—and each side had intense desire, for its own special reason.

"We wanted it real bad," said the Giants' masterful, 36-year-old quarterback, Y. A. Tittle. And Sherman explained why:

Both teams came out of the match with a healthy respect for the opposition, especially the winners for the losers.

Paul Hornung, a very weary halfback, said simply that he'd "never played in a tougher game."

After what was basically a bitter defensive struggle, it was the defenders who came in for the fullest praise from the coaches. Green Bay's, sparked by the magnificent play of linebacker Ray Nitschke, was termed "superb" by Lombardi. Sherman called his fiery defensive unit "great."

Nitschke's performance, which earned him the game's outstanding player award, exemplified the significance of the day's defensive work.

and has resided there ever since. Her only child, a son, died at birth. She served as bookkeeper for the bakery business during Mr. Hennig's life. On his death in 1930 she decided to try to operate the business for one year. She was successful and continued its operation aided by three long-time employees, Fred Sanders, David Bowling and Miss Ella O'Hara.

In 1955 Mrs. Hennig and Mrs. Donald Myers became partners in the Silver Thimble, a shop located in Mrs. Hennig's home as an outlet for handiwork of Adams County women.

ACTIVE IN ORGANIZATIONS

She was active in numerous community organizations. She was a charter member and past president of the Soroptimist Club which last month named her a life member.

She was a charter member and past matron of the Eastern Star; a member of the White Shrine and Women's Civic Council; a charter member of the Adams County Free Library; a past officer of the Gettysburg Chapter of the DAR; a member of the Manor of the Masque Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists; a member of the Gettysburg Women's Club; a member of the YWCA and a former member of the board of directors of the YWCA.

SNOW CREWS

the snow stopped piled the snow up car high at some places and swept roads bare at other spots. The Gettysburg Times weather station reported 5½ inches of snow.

As a result of the drifts, many people had an unexpected holiday day—others had hours of digging to reach work. The Cambridge Shoe Co., Taneytown, and the Carroll Shoe Co., at Littlestown and Arendtsville, closed for the day.

Numerous workers dug their way out or walked some distance to main roads. Borough Officer Paul B. Shealer was among those who were unable to drive to work. He walked from his home to the Fairfield Rd. where the borough police car picked him up to begin his tour of duty during the night.

SOME CHURCHES CANCEL

During the night the Quick Call Center found that there should be heat in the transmitter shed on E. Cemetery Hill. The switches on the transmitter froze and one of the fire trucks was driven outside the enine house to serve as the quick call transmitter for a time around 2 o'clock this morning until a heater could be placed in the shed.

Church and Sunday School sessions were cancelled Sunday in a number of rural churches because of the drifted roads. Others held services with depleted congregations.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FIVE LOSE LIVES

A stinging sub-zero cold gripped Pennsylvania today after high winds whipped snow into drifts big enough to disrupt traffic and block several main roads.

The weather bureau in Philadelphia said the strong winds and influx of the very cold arctic air should persist through most of Tuesday.

Five deaths were attributed in part to the weather, including a two-car collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Harrisburg which killed four persons. Investigators said snow was partly to blame.

Temperatures across the state dropped as low as 8 below zero at Bradford in northwestern Pennsylvania before moving upward to a forecast of about 15 today.

15 BELOW ZERO

The weather bureau said low readings tonight would be near zero in the southeast areas and zero to 5 below in other sections except 15 below zero in some of the mountain valleys.

In Millvale, a Pittsburgh suburb, some 100 firemen had to fight a $50,000 blaze at the Moore Paper Co. in near zero weather.

Winds with gusts nearly 50 miles an hour whipped snow into drifts as high as seven feet Sunday night, closing some main roads in the state. Highway crews reported most rural road were closed by the drifting snow.

The high winds left a trail of damage in Philadelphia, toppling walls and signs and shattering store windows, including a 10-by-30 foot display window in a department store. Twelve persons were evacuated from an apartment building. Police said winds had ripped away a cornice and brickwork and uprooted part of the roof, making the building unsafe.

COLLAPSED AND DIES

Near Pottstown, Walter H. Puhl, 60, of Boyertown R. 2, died of a heart attack after his car stalled in a drift. Police said the wind blew his hat away, he ran after it and collapsed.

Highway crews and motorists rescued other motorists, some with children, stalled in drifts.

Some of the road closed by drifts Sunday night included Route 611 north of Reading, Route 22 southwest of Reading, Route 22 near Hamburg, Route 191, the Lehigh Valley Thruway, from the Nazareth exit to Bethlehem, and Route 29, a four-lane highway from Allentown to Emmaus.

TRAFFIC STALLED

Traffic was stalled on several streets in Scranton by drifts three and four feet high. Police closed some streets until plows could get to them.

Nine Traffic Deaths In State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll on Pennsylvania highways for the long New Year's holiday weekend appeared today to be ahead of the pace of the past two years. Safety officials issued another plea for caution: during the most crucial hours New Year's eve tonight.

Nine persons were killed in traffic accidents, including five on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, since the start of the tabulating period at 6 p.m. Friday. The 102-hour weekend period ends at midnight Tuesday.

Eight persons were killed in nontraffic accidents, three of whom died as the result of carbon monoxide poisoning.

One crash on the turnpike Sunday near Harrisburg killed four persons. Investigators said snow, which covered parts of the roadway, contributed to the accident.

In sixth place is the completion and dedication of the new $1,700,000 Visitor Center on the battlefield. In use through much of the summer, it was formally dedicated November 19 by Conrad Wirth, head of the National Park Service.

Seventh place goes to the election and installation of the Rev. Dr. Donald R. Heiges as the ninth president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

In eighth place is the merger of two of the county's leading financial institutions, the First National Bank of Gettysburg and the Littlestown State Bank to form the Adams County National Bank.

Ninth place goes to a series of three tragedies occurring within three days: the suicides of Jack Orner of Arendtsville and Margaret Hawn, Seminary Ave., and the auto crash death of O. Perry House, Aspers. The tragedies were unrelated but their timing forced consideration as one story.

GATHER DATA FOR PROBE OF ILLICIT DRUGS

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators are reported assembling evidence for a massive examination of the illicit drug traffic touching "more or less every major city in the United States."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee has worked with Interpol, the international police agency, and various foreign governments in preparing for the investigation.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., plans an early meeting of the subcommittee to request an official go-ahead for the start of hearings, and to chart a tentative schedule for other major investigations in the works.

SPORTS GAMBLING

One of these, still in preliminary stages, will deal with gambling on college and professional sports events and alleged efforts by gamblers to corrupt athletes.

Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, told reporters the drug hearings would explore the adequacy of existing law to deal with the traffic in narcotic drugs.

McClellan and Adlerman said the inquiry would be a major effort to chart the flow of narcotics from sources in Asia, Europe and Latin America to the United States.

Little has been learned of the subcommittee's investigations of gambling on sports, a field that it has explored previously. It is known, however, that the subcommittee has used its authority to sift through the income tax returns of gamblers and others.

Mrs. Scranton Is Rescued From Lift

FOREST CITY, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. William W. Scranton, wife of Pennsylvania's governor-elect, was rescued with the aid of ladders Sunday when a chair lift at a ski slope jammed and left her suspended 25 feet up.

An aide of Scranton said his wife spent about 20 minutes in the chair in near-zero weather. Some others on the lift at the Elk Mountain slope also were rescued with ladders.

Scranton and three sons were skiing nearby, but were not aware of Mrs. Scranton's experience until she was back on the ground.

MAN BURNS IN $90,000 BLAZE

PALMYRA, Pa. (AP)—The

owner of a two-story apartment house in Palmyra was burned to death in a fire which caused an estimated $90,000 damage to the building. Ten persons, including the victim's wife, were left homeless.

The body of J. Howard Schneider, about 65, was recovered in the burned rubble about 4:30 p.m. Sunday. He was believed asleep in his basement apartment when the alarm was sounded at 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

His wife, Ruth, had gone to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Lentz, and Mrs. Lentz' daughter, Ruth, at the time.

Four apartments were vacant in the nine-apartment building. Authorities said the cause of the fire has not been determined. The damage estimate was set by state police fire marshals, Sgt. Michael A. Wisniewski and trooper Michael Teresenko, both of the Reading barracks.

KENNEDYS TO ATTEND PARTY

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy celebrate the arrival of the new year tonight much like many other Americans—at a midnight champagne party with friends.

Their hosts for the second year in a row are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wrightman, Palm Beach neighbors and close friends. Wrightman is a wealthy oil man and art collector. His wife, Jan, who collects antique furnishings, is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's White House Fine Arts Committee.

Their party is one of the major social events of the holiday season in this resort city. The President and his wife have to go only a few doors down the road from their borrowed oceanfront villa to get to the New Year's Eve party, where Lester Lanin's society orchestra will play.

DAILY CRUISE

The President has been in Palm Beach since Dec. 21, getting lots of sun, taking a daily cruise on the presidential yacht and working with his advisers on budget, legislative and tax matters.

Kennedy is not expected to return to Washington until Jan. 8, in time to join in ceremonies opening the exhibition of the "Mona Lisa." The famed masterpiece has been loaned by the French government for showings at the National Gallery of Art in Washington and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

SOME SUPERB TV SHOWS IN '62; SOME BAD

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Another 12 months of television history has been made—thousands and thousands of hours of entertainment, news and education carried by electronic magic into the nation's homes.

There was an amazing total of 1,831 of these hours on network television during the peak opening plying hours alone. Most of the programs were run of the mill, some were distressingly bad, but some were superb.

There were fewer dramatic shows, but there was real drama. It came when the cameras were focused on the blastoff of manned space shots, and on the face of the President of the United States alerting the public to a national crisis.

MORE PEOPLE WATCHED

More people watched television than ever before, and the more they watched, the more critical they became.

Critics went on hammering about the quality of television, calling for more culture and education. But viewers continued to turn to their sets primarily for entertainment: for sports, Westerns, parlor games, stories about doctors and comedies.

Violence diminished, children's programs improved in quality, villains were more likely to be mentally ill than evil for evil's sake. Commercials tended to be more soft-sell than hard, except in the household remedies area.

All in all, it was a busy television year. It reached heights on some occasions. On a day-to-day basis, it managed to amuse most of the people some of the time. Not a bad record.

Recommended today: "Match Game," premiere, NBC, 4-4:25 p.m. (EST) — new game show with Gene Rayburn, host; King Orange Jamboree Parade, ABC, 9-10—folk song festival from Miami, Fla.; "Tonight Show," NBC, 11:15-1 a.m.—live pick-ups of New Year's celebrations from Times Square, and musical program.

Nine Traffic Deaths In State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll on Pennsylvania highways for the long New Year's holiday weekend appeared today to be ahead of the pace of the past two years. Safety officials issued another plea for caution: during the most crucial hours New Year's eve tonight.

Nine persons were killed in traffic accidents, including five on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, since the start of the tabulating period at 6 p.m. Friday. The 102-hour weekend period ends at midnight Tuesday.

Eight persons were killed in nontraffic accidents, three of whom died as the result of carbon monoxide poisoning.

One crash on the turnpike Sunday near Harrisburg killed four persons. Investigators said snow, which covered parts of the roadway, contributed to the accident.

GATHER DATA FOR PROBE OF ILLICIT DRUGS

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators are reported assembling evidence for a massive examination of the illicit drug traffic touching "more or less every major city in the United States."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee has worked with Interpol, the international police agency, and various foreign governments in preparing for the investigation.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark, plans an early meeting of the subcommittee to request an official go-ahead for the start of hearings, and to chart a tentative schedule for other major investigations in the works.

SPORTS GAMBLING

One of these, still in preliminary stages, will deal with gambling on college and professional sports events and alleged efforts by gamblers to corrupt athletes. Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, told reporters the drug hearings would explore the adequacy of existing law to deal with the traffic in narcotic drugs.

McClellan and Adlerman said the inquiry would be a major effort to chart the flow of narcotics from sources in Asia, Europe and Latin America to the United States.

Little has been learned of the subcommittee's investigations of gambling on sports, a field that it has explored previously. It is known, however, that the subcommittee has used its authority to sift through the income tax returns of gamblers and others.

Some others on the lift at the Elk Mountain slope also were rescued with ladders.

Scranton and three sons were skiing nearby, but were not aware of Mrs. Scranton's experience until she was back on the ground.

MAN BURNS IN $90,000 BLAZE

PALMYRA, Pa. (AP) — The owner of a two-story apartment house in Palmyra was burned to death in a fire which caused an estimated $90,000 damage to the building. Ten persons, including the victim's wife, were left homeless.

The body of J. Howard Schneider, about 65, was recovered in the burned rubble about 4:30 p.m. Sunday. He was believed asleep in his basement apartment when the alarm was sounded at 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

His wife, Ruth, had gone to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Lentz, and Mrs. Lentz's daughter, Ruth, at the time.

Four apartments were vacant in the nine-apartment building.

Authorities said the cause of the fire has not been determined. The damage estimate was set by state police fire marshals, Sgt. Michael A. Wisniewski and trooper Michael Teresenko, both of the Reading barracks.

KENNEDYS TO ATTEND PARTY

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy celebrate the arrival of the new year tonight much like many other Americans—at a midnight champagne party with friends.

Their hosts for the second year in a row are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wrightsman, Palm Beach neighbors and close friends.

Wrightsman is a wealthy oil man and art collector. His wife, Jan, who collects antique furnishings, is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's White House Fine Arts Committee.

Their party is one of the major social events of the holiday season in this resort city.

The President and his wife have to go only a few doors down the road from their borrowed ocean-front villa to get to the New Year's Eve party, where Lester Lanin's society orchestra will play.

DAILY CRUISE

The President has been in Palm Beach since Dec. 21, getting lots of sun, taking a daily cruise on the presidential yacht and working with his advisers on budget, legislative and tax matters.

Kennedy is not expected to return to Washington until Jan. 8, in time to join in ceremonies opening the exhibition of the "Mona Lisa." The famed masterpiece has been loaned by the French government for showings at the National Gallery of Art in Washington and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

furnace pipe where it entered a new chimney below the children's room. Had Mrs. Cooley been sleeping in her own room during the night the children might have been asphyxiated, the fire chief said.

The family was provided with clothing by neighbors. All of their own possessions were destroyed by the fire, including two freezers full of meat and hundreds of jars of food.

Firemen immediately asked for donations of clothing and furnishings for the family. Mrs. Dale Cooley wears a 16 1/2 dress, Mrs. Donald Cooley a 22 1/2 dress; Mr. Cooley, 34 trousers and a 15 1/2 or 16 shirt, and the children wear size two, four and 6x or 7.

The firemen also noted that all of the toys the children received at Christmas were destroyed in the blaze.

180 Holiday Deaths Are Reported Up To Noon Today

Traffic 180
Fires 44
Miscellaneous 49
Total 273

The nation's traffic death toll in the first half of the long New Year weekend appeared running below pre-holiday estimates by safety experts despite a spurt in fatalities Sunday.

A survey of accidental deaths since 6 p.m. local time Friday showed 178 killed in traffic, 42 in fires and 48 in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total was 268, Tuesday.

Snowy, windy and cold weather made driving conditions hazardous in broad areas in the Northeast and sections of the Midwest.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 420 to 480 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the 102-hour New Year holiday period. The record traffic toll for a four-day New Year period was 409 in the 1956-57 observance.

The traffic death toll in the first half of the current holiday was far less than for the comparable period during the extended Christmas weekend when more than 300 fatalities were reported. The final Christmas tally showed 646 traffic deaths.

Last year's New Year holiday covered three days and the final tabulation showed 337 traffic fatalities, 83 fire deaths and 59 killed in miscellaneous accidents, for a total of 479.

ABL Suspending Its Operations

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Basketball League, formed two years ago, is suspending operations, officials confirmed today.

Commissioner Abe Saperstein called a noon news conference to announce suspension of the league.

The owner of the Harlem Globetrotters who sponsored the pro circuit was reported to be called off next year's season because of losses and bleak prospects for the immediate future.

Saperstein was reported about $53,000 out-of-pocket in unrecovered expenses.

were left stranded in very low water over a stretch of two miles or more.

A passenger on the Staten Island ferry in New York City reported seeing a teen-age boy swept overboard by the fierce winds. A search of the harbor did not immediately produce a body.

A man drowned when winds capsized his motorboat off Oyster Bay, N.Y., on Long Island's north shore.

In New City, N.Y., a movie house roof went flying, and the same happened to the roof of a Brooklyn, Conn., shopping center. No one was hurt in either case.

CRANE TOPPLES

In New York City, a 150-foot construction crane toppled on its side. No one was injured.

Six persons were injured when a bus on the New York State Thruway was caught by a gust of wind and crashed into a culvert.

Twelve miles of highway between Conway and Chocoma, N.H., were strewn with fallen utility poles and trees. State police, working in from both ends of the blocked area, brought out some stranded motorists.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Jail Delivery: It appears our prison cannot hold its inmates when they have a deposition to seek for a "larger liberty" — at least the events of past years tell such a tale. A few nights ago, three prisoners made their escape — two, Corwell and French, indicted for horse-stealing and highway robbery, and a soldier committed as a deserter. They were in a secure cell, but having been allowed the liberty of the hall, they got into another cell, quarried a hole through the wall (as has been done before), got into the jail yard and thence to the world at large, where they now are.

Our thanks are due to an esteemed friend, whom we need not name, for a very fine turkey. We used it not for Christmas, having one provided therefor previously; but on New Year's Day our folks will test its good qualities and will think kindly of the donor. Thanks!

There is a Special Court now in session, engaged in the long contested Withered and Epley case. This case has been in our Courts for many years. It is likely, we understand, to be settled finally by the trials to come off this week.

Telegraph: Gettysburg has now a Telegraph, in complete working order. On Wednesday last "communications" were opened with Hanover, York, Harrisburg and Baltimore — in short "with all the world and the rest of mankind." The office here is in Chambersburg street, at Major John Scott's.

Christmas In Washington: The adjournment of Congress over the holidays has caused an immense efflux of members of Congress, and the consequent collapse of news. Everything wears an air of profound quiet, and everybody seems intent on Christmas comforts. Each of the forty-six hospitals in Washington and vicinity was furnished with a sumptuous dinner for its inmates, including roast turkeys and chicken pies — the repast being enlivened with music, and in one case at least, with dancing. The President gave a part of his time to these charitable festivities and visited several of the hospitals and mixed freely with the patients.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Week Of Prayer: Following an old time custom the ministers of town have resolved to hold union services during the first week in January beginning on Sunday evening, Jan. 1. A sermon will then be preached in the Methodist Church by the Rev. Mr. Demarest on "Prayer" (subject chosen by the committee). Meetings for conference and prayer will be held at follows: In the Methodist Church on Monday evening, led by Dr. Baugher, subject, "Are We Caring as We Ought for the Religious Training of Our Children?"; on Tuesday evening led by Dr. Nay, subject, "Are We Doing What We Ought for Those Outside of the Churches?"; on Wednesday evening led by Dr. Swartz, subject, "Why Are so Few of Our Men Engaged Actively in Christian Work?"; and in Christ Lutheran Church on Thursday evening, led by Rev. M. Barkley, subject "Are We Doing What We Ought to Maintain Among Us a Proper Observance of the Lord's Day?"; on Friday evening, led by Rev. Dunkerly, subject "Are We Doing Our Duty in the Matter of Temperance?"; and on Saturday evening, led by Mr. Demarest, subject "A Summary of the Considerations of the Week, and the Spiritual Qualifications Requisite to Success in Spiritual Work." All of these meetings will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and those in the week will close as promptly.

Today's Talk

THE BLOWN LIGHT

Their home was a type of the average — simple, clean and healthful. Father, mother, three boys and two girls, one a tiny baby, made up the family.

They lived on the outskirts of town where it was free and quiet. This night they were all gathered about the open fireplace. An older boy and girl had just returned from school. The Christmas tree was still up — for it was the last day of the old year.

It was an exceedingly happy reunion, though there were mingling thoughts that kept flitting through the matured minds present. In the silent waves of the room, however, an entering stranger could have felt nothing but the most beautiful concord of spirit.

Soon the family would be separated again. The boy and girl would go to their schools, the father to his daily work in the city, the mother to stay with the younger ones and to do the work that a mother alone is able to perform. There was a single candle upon the mantel. The fire had gone to a handful of golden coals in a nest of soft-toned ashes.

The father stepped to the candle — and blew it out! Then he walked back to his chair and knelt with bowed head in a room that was already filled with a still sweetness. And this is what he prayed:

"Father of us all, we bring to You all that our arms can hold in thankfulness and appreciation. Overlook the mistakes we have made. Blot out the memory of our failures. Give to our understanding selves the means to touch Your desires for us during the year before us. Help us each to follow You — so that in turn we may each be able to lead and serve."

Tomorrow morning as you awake, a new sun will creep into your bedroom window — and each dancing ray will smile a glad and happy New Year to you. May it be the happiest New Year you have ever known!

Just Folks

THE OLD YEAR
The Old Year's slipping out to sea
To join the years which used to be;

A few more hours it has to last
And then with the remembered past

It takes its place, with thousands more,
Just like it which have gone before.

Some of us mourn its passing on,
Others may smile when it has gone

And hopefully embrace the new,
Turning to it as humans do
Unto the friend who comes to bring Them comfort for their borrowing.

What is the cargo of a Year?
Joy, hope, success and doubt and fear,
Failure and victory and mirth,
The pain of death, the thrill of birth,

And gain and loss and each in turn
Some portion of it all shall earn.

Each of us, by his strength of will,
Shall shape the year for good or ill;
Save the inevitable blow
Which strikes the dearly loved ones low,

By all we do and all we are
The year that comes we make or mar.

Within the year tonight that dies
The record of our service lies;
Unchanged through all that shall occur

This year shall tell the men we were;
Ages unborn shall run it through
And learn just what we dared to do.

The Caledonia Furnace Property: The title to this property passed on Wednesday last from the estate of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens to the purchaser, Mr. Samuel B. Diller of Lancaster. Hon. Edward McPherson, as surviving executor, made the deed. The land conveyed is about 12,500 acres, lying in Adams and Franklin counties, chiefly mountain land. The plans of Mr. Diller have not become known, but it is hoped that they include the working of the property for the making of iron.

Our borough authorities had a breezy time at their special meeting on Tuesday evening. The controversy was over the dismissal of the lamp-lighter, and there was a conflict of jurisdiction between Burgess and the Town Council. The former claimed the authority and deemed it his duty to remove the officer for neglect of duty and insubordination. The council refused to ratify the action of the Burgess and thereby endorsed the committee on lights and the lamp-lighter. Mr. Tipton resigned his position, which, independent of the merits of this controversy of which we know

A majority of the local factories, places of business and stores will be closed on Tuesday, New Year's Day.

Two children were baptized by the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor, during the Holy Communion service on Sunday in Centenary Methodist Church. They were, Robin Lynn Arter, daughter of Edgar Leroy Jr. and Helen Woolf Arter, born November 28 in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, and Robert Leslie Jr. and Sadie Frances Woolf, born June 3, 1961, in the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore. The parents were the baptismal sponsors.

The Rev. Mr. Jones delivered a meditation entitled "And Now, Tomorrow" and read the epistle lesson from Galatians 4:1-7 and the gospel lesson from Matthew 1:18-25. The Senior Choir sang an anthem with Mrs. Estella Furlow at the organ. The altar flowers were placed by the Official Board. Those who wish to place altar flowers for the next three months should place their names or other designation on the floral chart in the vestibule and give the needed information to the pastor.

The first rehearsal of the new year of the Senior Choir of Centenary Church will be held on Tuesday, January 8, at 6:30 p.m. This will be an important rehearsal, and all members are urged to be present.

The annual New Year's Day shooting match will be held at the Littlestown Fish and Game Farm, near town, Tuesday, beginning at 1 p.m. Twelve-gauge guns will be used and shells will be furnished. A Narrow Escape: On Tuesday evening, as the Baltimore excursion train was returning from Baltimore, a short stop was made at Valley Junction, when Frank Slonaker of this place walked out on the platform. He accidentally fell between two cars, but he managed to hug the ties so closely, that although four cars passed over him he escaped without injury, except slight bruises on his back and general soreness, which he received from his fall. One of his companions missed him, and calling conductor Sheads' attention to it, he stopped the train and brought Mr. Slonaker home with the party.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

ANOTHER GHOST STORY

The following ghost story, which is considered more or less authentic, is centered in the old covered bridge that once spanned Conewago Creek, on the Hanover-Littlestown road, near the old Kitzmiller Mill — where the Dudley Digges tragedy took place.

The account included in this column was taken from an undated clipping from the "Hanover Herald" on file in the Lancaster County Historical Society.

"Spook Story — As ghost stories have been the sensational and popular topic of town talk for some months, we have been induced to publish one — a genuine, simon-pure spook story — that probably only a very few of our people have ever heard. The old frame covered bridge spanning Conewago Creek, on the Littlestown Pike, three and one-half miles west of Hanover, is haunted and only a few persons have ever seen the spectral visitants from the land of the shades, long since departed from this mundane sphere. Our informant is a gentleman, a former resident of this place (Hanover, Pennsylvania), but for several years past residing at York, Pennsylvania.

SLEIGH DISAPPEARS

"He says that shortly before his marriage, some twenty years ago, while returning to Hanover on a cold wintry night with his lady after a visit to Littlestown, upon entering the covered bridge, his horse snorted with terror and refused to move forward. The interior of the bridge being very dark, he did not see at first what occasioned the horse's fright and refusal to go further into the bridge. However, as his eyes became accustomed to the darkness, he saw in front of him a large sleigh or sled, drawn by two powerful horses, the seats of which were arranged lengthwise and on which were seated, facing each other, probably a dozen men of almost gigantic stature, apparently military men — officers of high rank and distinction, from their appearance — being dressed in uniforms of a dark color, with long flowing capes and slouched hats. The driver of this conveyance sat on an elevated seat at the front, with whip in hand and lines loosely drawn. As the ghostly team passed out of the bridge it was so close to his buggy that his informant says that his lady — by reaching out her hand — could have touched it. At this point their horse backed the buggy down the bridge embankment to let the ghostly sleigh pass.

"As it emerged from the darkness into the starlight, it quickly melted away and disappeared before their very eyes. They were enabled, however, in the brief glimpse afforded of it to more clearly distinguish the appearance of the sleigh and its occupants and both concurred that the remarkable spectacle they had witnessed was no phantasm or creation of the mind, but a veritable reality — a party of military men, evidently officers, from their appearance and bearing and the look of their uniforms. The horses were sorrels with white blazed faces — large, powerful animals of great spirit and action, but their footsteps through the bridge gave forth no sound or noise and the sleigh moved as silently over the flooring as if being drawn through the air.

"The eye-witnesses of this singular phenomenon were so startled and frightened with what they had seen that it was some minutes before they recovered from the great fright into which they had been thrown — and to ask each other what it was that they had both seen — whether it was a reality or some phantasm of the mind for the moment. Each one fully confirmed and corroborated the other as to the minutest detail of what they had witnessed passing before their eyes, and both are ready and willing to testify at any time as to the fact of their having seen this spectral sleighing party at the old Conewago bridge — as described.

"In connection with this weird story, it is a well-known historical fact that during the winter of 1778 a large detachment of Hessian soldiers, who were captured in the Battle of Trenton, at daybreak of December 25th of that year, during the War of the American Revolution, passed through Hanover by way of the Littlestown road en route to Frederick, Maryland, to be confined in the barracks there until the close of the war. Of course at that time no

FIGHTING IS CONTINUING IN CONGO AREA

By ROBIN P. MANHOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Fighting was reported continuing today on the outskirts of the town of Kamina, in the north-west Congo.

The U.N. command in Leopoldville said units of a Swedish battalion and a Ghanaian company were under fire.

The world organization claimed the capture of Kamina town Sunday afternoon after Ghanaian troops broke out of the nearby former Belgian base. But messages reaching Leopoldville this morning said three Katangan companies were still in the town Sunday night, the United Nations said.

Ghanaian troops were reported by the United Nations to have captured a road and rail junction about 15 miles from Kamina, while Swedish troops were said to have taken intact about 10 miles of railroad track to the east.

As the U.N. forces consolidated their lightning military victory, the U.N. command gave Katanga pilots until noon Tuesday to surrender themselves and their planes.

A U.N. message to Katangan pilots of both civil and military aircraft to the U.N. air base of Manono between 6 a.m. and noon. All Katangan planes which have not been surrendered by that time will be destroyed wherever they are found, the U.N. command said.

The United Nations said earlier that Swedish jet fighters had almost completely eliminated the Katanga air force, destroying two British Vampire jets and four or five converted Harvard trainers on the ground.

Collegiate Cagers Will Resume Conference Races; Bearcats Still Unbeaten

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

With the mad annual whirligig of Holiday tournaments out of the way, college basketball settles down to normal this week. Most of the conference races get under way and the Missouri Valley resumes its chase of Cincinnati.

The Bearcats, national collegiate champions the last two years and the MVC titlholders three years in a row, have won 27 straight games and where it will stop nobody knows.

Coach Ed Jucker's outfit goes after No. 28 Wednesday against Houston, then opens its league season against Wichita Saturday. The team probably will be without the services of 6-foot-8 Dale Heidott, who injured an ankle last week.

WICHITA DANGEROUS

Since sophomore Ron Krick, who was counted on to fill the vacancy created by Paul Hogue's graduation, also is out, the Bearcats could be ripe for a kill. Wichita, especially, boasting a 9-2 record with seven straight victories, appears dangerous. Further, Coach Ralph Miller's Shockers already have knocked two teams—Arizona State and Ohio State—out of the undefeated list. Wichita polished off the Buckeyes 71-54 last Saturday.

Cincinnati, 9-0 for the season, ranks No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State is No. 2.

Here's a rundown on the other major conferences:

BIG TEN—Illinois, No. 4 team in the country, won the Holiday Festival in New York, whipped West Virginia 92-74 in the final, and looks ready to make things rough for Ohio State.

SOUTHEASTERN—This one opens Saturday with the four top teams clashing at each other. Kentucky (7-2), No. 5 team in the country, entertains Georgia Tech (7-0), and Auburn, (8-0), which won the Sugar Bowl Tournament with a 71-69 decision over Houston, faces No. 10 Mississippi State (7-2).

SOUTHWEST—Southern Methodist appears to be the class of the league, with a 5-0 record although Texas A&M, the Jonesboro Classic winner—67-53 over Tulane—has a strong entry.

JAYHAWKS STRONG

BIG EIGHT—Kansas won the league pre-season tournament with a 90-68 overtime squeaker over Kansas State. Kansas opens against powerful Colorado Saturday and that should provide a definite line on how far the Jayhawks can go.

BIG SIX—UCLA (10-2), boasting eight straight victories and a 68-64 decision over Colorado State U. in the final of the Los Angeles Classic, now takes over the favorite's spot. Southern California, No. 7 in the current AP poll, lost twice in the tournament.

WESTERN ATHLETIC—The league chase doesn't start for another week, but sixth-ranked Arizona State (9-1) is the favorite. The Sun Devils won the Queen City tournament, turning back Canisius in the final, 67-63.

ATLANTIC COAST—Duke (8-2), which topped all the way from second to eighth in the AP poll, clobbered Wake Forest, 113-87, the defending champion in a non-league game.

IVY—Penn and Princeton are the co-favorites, each with 7-1 non-league records. Lo and behold they clash in their league opener at Penn Saturday.

SOUTHERN—The race is in full swing with West Virginia leading with a 3-0 record.

A fantastic total of 62 college tournaments wound up Saturday night. Loyola of Chicago, No. 3 in the country and the highest scoring team around, won the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City with a 92-92 victory over Wyoming to run its record to 10-0.

Foursquare To Hold Watchnight

A New Year's Eve watchnight service will be held this evening at the Foursquare Gospel Church, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. Harold Myers.

The service will start at 8 o'clock and will include special music, testimonies and a sermon, "But God For 1963," by the pastor.

The public is invited to attend.

GOOD GRID TV VIEWING ON JANUARY 1

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Many people have troubles of one type or another on New Year's Day. But, not the poor football fan.

While some of his fellows have to contend only with the flickering that is produced by twitching, aching eyeballs, the football fan must coordinate that flicker with a flickering television screen.

He must get the two flickers in unison. Then he can not only watch but see the Big Four of the college bowl games.

Eight of the nation's Top Ten teams will be in action in the Rose, Cotton, Sugar and Orange bowl games and each of them is scheduled for national television coverage.

THE LINE-UP

ROSE BOWL at Pasadena, Calif.—Top-ranked Southern California, 10-0, vs. No. 2 Wisconsin, 8-1, to be televised by NBC at 5 p.m., EST.

SUGAR BOWL at New Orleans—Third-ranked Mississippi, 9-0, vs. No. 6 Arkansas, 9-1, to be televised by NBC at 2 p.m., EST.

COTTON BOWL at Dallas—Fourth-ranked Texas, 9-0-1, vs. No. 7 Louisiana State, 8-1-1, to be televised over CBS at 3 p.m., EST.

ORANGE BOWL at Miami—Fifth-ranked Alabama, 9-1, vs. No. 8 Oklahoma, 8-2, to be televised over ABC at 2 p.m., EST.

The long windup weekend started with four games Saturday—featuring Florida's 17-7 upset of Penn State in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and continues today with the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex. West Texas State and Ohio University, each 8-2, are slated for that one. There is no national television of the Sun Bowl.

SOPH PAGED GRID VICTORY

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—

Add to the list of outstanding young college quarterbacks the name of Tom Shannon, cocky left-handed sophomore who led the underdog Florida Gators to a 17-7 victory over Penn State in the Gator Bowl football game.

He's a leader and has the makings of a really fine quarterback. Take the word of Larry Libertore, 138-pounder who lost the job to Shannon in the third game of the season. Libertore, most valuable player in Florida's 1960 Gator Bowl victory, made the presentation of this year's award to Shannon after last Saturday's game.

Shannon led an underdog Florida squad out against a Penn State team that was tops in the East, No. 9 in the nation and was favored by more than a touchdown. Desire, fanned by criticism of the Gator Bowl for selecting Florida with its 6-4 record, made the Gators play their best.

Maybe Shannon didn't need the incentives, but at any rate he threw a pair of touchdown passes—7 yards to Larry Dupree and 19 yards to Hagood Clark—completed seven of nine tosses for 79 yards and gained 26 yards running. Dupree, also a sophomore and an all-SEC back, was top runner with 66 yards.

CHIEFS SLASH STEERS' LEAD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Steers, sitting atop the American Basketball League standings with a four game lead a couple of days ago, suddenly find themselves under severe pressure from the on-rush in Long Beach Chiefs.

The Chiefs knocked off Oakland 104-100 on Sunday for the second time in as many days while Kansas City took a 119-116 overtime trimming from Pittsburgh, cutting Kansas City's lead to 2-4 games.

Philadelphia beat Chicago 95-86 in the only other Sunday game. Bill Spivey scored 31 points for Long Beach, which took advantage of Oakland foul trouble. Three Oakland players, including top rebounder Nick Romanoff, fouled out in the last period.

Long Beach whipped Oakland 124-111, breaking a nine-game Oakland winning string, in the only Saturday action. No games are scheduled tonight.

Collegiate Cagers Will Resume Conference Races; Bearcats Still Unbeaten

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

With the mad annual whirligig of Holiday tournaments out of the way, college basketball settles down to normal this week. Most of the conference races get under way and the Missouri Valley resumes its chase of Cincinnati.

The Bearcats, national collegiate champions the last two years and the MVC titleholders three years in a row, have won 27 straight games and where it will stop nobody knows.

Coach Ed Jucker's outfit goes after No. 23 Wednesday against Houston, then opens its league season against Wichita Saturday. The team probably will be without the services of 6-foot-8 Dale Heidtting, who injured an ankle last week.

WICHITA DANGEROUS

Since sophomore Ken Krick, who was counted on to fill the vacancy created by Paul Hogue's graduation, also is out, the Bearcats could be ripe for a kill. Wichita, especially, boasting a 9-2 record with seven straight victories, appears dangerous. Further, Coach Ralph Miller's Shockers already have knocked two teams—Arizona State and Ohio State—from the und-f-e-d list. Wichita polished off the Buckeyes 71-54 last Saturday.

Cincinnati, 9-0 for the season, ranks No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State is No. 2.

Here's a rundown on the other major conferences:

BIG TEN—Illinois, No. 4 team in the country, won the Holiday Festival in New York, whipped West Virginia 92-74 in the final, and looks ready to make things rough for Ohio State.

SOUTHEASTERN—This one opens Saturday with the four top teams clashing at each other. Kentucky (7-2), No. 5 team in the country, entertains Georgia Tech (7-0), and Auburn, (8-0), which won the Sugar Bowl Tournament with a 71-69 decision over Houston, faces No. 10 Mississippi State (7-2).

SOUTHWEST—Southern Methodist appears to be the class of the league, with a 5-0 record although Texas A&M, the Jonesboro Classic winner—67-53 over Tulane—has a strong entry.

JAYHAWKS STRONG

BIG EIGHT—Kansas won the league pre-season tournament with a 90-83 four overtime squeaker over Kansas State. Kansas opens against powerful Colorado Saturday and that should provide a definite line on how far the Jayhawks can go.

BIG SIX—UCLA (10-2), boasting eight straight victories and a 68-64 decision over Colorado State U. in the final of the Los Angeles Classic, now takes over the favorite's spot. Southern California, No. 7 in the current AP poll, lost twice in the tournament.

WESTERN ATHLETIC—The league chase doesn't start for another week, but sixth-ranked Arizona State (9-1) is the favorite. The Sun Devils won the Queen City tournament, turning back Canisius in the final, 67-63.

ATLANTIC COAST—Duke (8-2) which topped all the way from second to eighth in the AP poll, clobbered Wake Forest, 113-87, the defending champion in a non-league game.

IVY—Penn and Princeton are the co-favorites, each with 7-1 non-league records. Lo and behold they clash in their league opener at Penn Saturday.

SOUTHERN—The race is in full swing with West Virginia leading with a 3-0 record.

A fantastic total of 62 college tournaments wound up Saturday night. Loyola of Chicago, No. 3 in the country and the highest scoring team around, won the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City with a 93-92 victory over Wyoming to run its record to 10-0.

Foursquare To Hold Watchnight

A New Year's Eve watchnight service will be held this evening at the Foursquare Gospel Church, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. Harold Myers.

The service will start at 8 o'clock and will include special music, testimonies and a sermon, "But God For 1963," by the pastor.

The public is invited to attend.

EAST DEFEATS WEST 25 TO 19

By DICK BARNES

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Defensive football, usually less dependent than a T-formation offense on split-second coordination, is supposed to have the edge in all-star games where preparation time is short.

But you could never prove it by the East's 25-19 victory over the West Saturday as five passing records for the 38-year-old Shrine classic fell and a sixth was tied. Only once had more points been scored.

Ironically, the only ground touchdown of the game proved the winning margin as Iowa's Larry Ferguson powered 2 yards with only 1 minute, 27 seconds to play, breaking a 19-19 tie.

TOO LONG TD'S

Until then, East quarterback Darryl Lamonica from Notre Dame and the West's Sonny Gibbs from Texas Christian had alternated throwing long touchdown passes, four of them within a 7 minute, 9 second portion of the second period.

Lamonica was a unanimous choice as player of the game after passing 349 yards for a Shrine game record. By halftime he had cracked the Shrine mark of two touchdowns passes, but Gibbs quickly joined him.

Lamonica, who finished the day 20 for 28, completed all six passes and ran twice as he guided the East from its 12 to the West 2 in eight plays as time was running out. Then he handed to Ferguson for the winning points.

REDS GAIN ON QUEBEC IN AHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Providence Reds, getting a four-point performance from three players and provided with a major assist from Baltimore, once again have closed to within two points of Eastern Division leader Quebec in the American Hockey League.

The Reds broke out of a second place tie with Springfield on the strength of Sunday night's 9-3 rout of Rochester while Baltimore was edging Quebec 4-2. Buffalo beat Cleveland 6-3 in the only other game.

That left Quebec with 39 points, Providence with 37 and Springfield with 35 in the tight Eastern Division struggle.

Harry Pidhirny scored the three-goal hat trick for Providence and added an assist in the rout of Rochester.

Doug Robinson, in his first season in the AHL, scored four goals in leading Buffalo over Cleveland.

Baltimore built up a 3-0 lead and coasted in against Quebec. Vic Hadfield had two goals for the Clippers and Bryan Hextall and Chick Balon one each.

In Saturday games, Cleveland beat Baltimore 5-1, Quebec and Hershey skated to a 3-3 tie, Springfield bombed Rochester 9-2 and Pittsburgh defeated Buffalo, 4-2.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Jail Delivery: It appears our prison cannot hold its inmates when they have a deposition to seek for a "larger liberty" — at least the events of past years tell such a tale. A few nights ago, three prisoners made their escape — two, Corwell and French, indicted for horse-stealing and highway robbery, and a soldier committed as a deserter. They were in a secure cell, but having been allowed the liberty of the hall, they got into another cell, quarried a hole through the wall (as has been done before), got into the jail yard and thence to the world at large, where they now are.

Our thanks are due to an esteemed friend, whom we need not name, for a very fine turkey. We used it not for Christmas, having one provided therefor previously; but on New Year's Day our folks will test its good qualities and will think kindly of the donor. Thanks!

There is a Special Court now in session, engaged in the long contested Withrow and Epley case. This case has been in our Courts for many years. It is likely, we understand, to be settled finally by the trials to come off this week.

Telegraph: Gettysburg has now a Telegraph, in complete working order. On Wednesday last "communications" were opened with Hanover, York Harrisburg and Baltimore — in short "with all the world and the rest of mankind." The office here is in Chambersburg street, at Major John Scott's.

Christmas in Washington: The adjournment of Congress over the holidays has caused an immense efflux of members of Congress, and the consequent collapse of news. Everything wears an air of profound quiet, and everybody seems intent on Christmas comforts. Each of the forty-six hospitals in Washington and vicinity was furnished with a sumptuous dinner for its inmates, including roast turkeys and chicken pies — the repast being enlivened with music, and in one case at least, with dancing. The President gave a part of his time to these charitable festivities and visited several of the hospitals and mixed freely with the patients.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Week Of Prayer: Following an old time custom the ministers of town have resolved to hold union services during the first week in January beginning on Sunday evening, Jan. 1. A sermon will then be preached in the Methodist Church by the Rev. Mr. Demarest on "Prayer" (subject chosen by the committee). Meetings for conference and prayer will be held at follows: in the Methodist Church on Monday evening, led by Dr. Bousher, subject, "Are We Caring as We Ought for the Religious Training of Our Children?"; on Tuesday evening led by Dr. Nay, subject, "Are We Doing What We Ought for Those Outside of the Churches?"; on Wednesday evening led by Dr. Swartz, subject, "Why Are so Few of Our Men Engaged Actively in Christian Work?"; and in Christ Lutheran Church on Thursday evening, led by Rev. M. Barkley, subject, "Are We Doing What We Ought to Maintain Among Us a Proper Observance of the Lord's Day?"; on Friday evening, led by Rev. Dunkerly, subject, "Are We Doing Our Duty in the Matter of Temperance?"; and on Saturday evening, led by Mr. Demarest, subject, "A Summary of the Considerations of the Week, and the Spiritual Qualifications Requisite to Success in Spiritual Work." All of these meetings will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and those in the week will close as promptly.

Today's Talk

THE BLOWN LIGHT
Their home was a type of the average — simple, clean and healthful. Father, mother, three boys and two girls, one a tiny baby, made up the family. They lived on the outskirts of town where it was free and quiet. This night they were all gathered about the open fireplace. An older boy and girl had just returned from school. The Christmas tree was still up — for it was the last day of the old year. It was an exceedingly happy reunion, though there were mingling thoughts that kept flitting through the matured minds present. In the silent waves of the room, however, an entering stranger could have felt nothing but the most beautiful concord of spirit.

Soon the family would be separated again. The boy and girl would go to their schools, the father to his daily work in the city, the mother to stay with the younger ones and to do the work that a mother alone is able to perform. There was a single candle upon the mantel. The fire had gone to a handful of golden coals in a nest of soft-toned ashes. The father stepped to the candle — and blew it out! Then he walked back to his chair and knelt with bowed head in a room that was already filled with a still sweetness. And this is what he prayed: "Father of us all, we bring to You all that our arms can hold in thankfulness and appreciation. Overlook the mistakes we have made. Blot out the memory of our failures. Give to our understanding selves the means to touch Your desires for us during the year before us. Help us each to follow You — so that in turn we may each be able to lead and serve."

Tomorrow morning as you awake, a new sun will creep into your bedroom window — and each dancing ray will smile a glad and happy New Year to you. May it be the happiest New Year you have ever known!

Wednesday's subject: "Humanism."

Just Folks
THE OLD YEAR

The Old Year's slipping out to sea To join the years which used to be;
A few more hours it has to last And then with the remembered past
It takes its place, with thousands more, Just like it which have gone before.
Some of us mourn its passing on, Others may smile when it has gone
And hopefully embrace the new, Turning to it as humans do
Unto the friend who comes to bring Them comfort for their borrowing.
What is the cargo of a Year? Joy, hope, success and doubt and fear,
Failure and victory and mirth, The pain of death, the thrill of birth,
And gain and loss and each in turn Some portion of it all shall earn.
Each of us, by his strength of will, Shall shape the year for good or ill;
Save the inevitable blow Which strikes the dearly loved ones low,
By all we do and all we are The year that comes we make or mar.
Within the year tonight that dies The record of our service lies; Unchanged through all that shall occur
This year shall tell the men we were; Ages unborn shall run it through And learn just what we dared to do.

THE CALEDONIA FURNACE PROPERTY: The title to this property passed on Wednesday last from the estate of Hon Thaddeus Stevens to the purchaser, Mr. Samuel B. Diller of Lancaster. Hon. Edward McPherson as surviving executor, made the deed. The land conveyed is about 12,500 acres, lying in Adams and Franklin counties, chiefly mountain land. The plans of Mr. Diller have not become known, but it is hoped that they include the working of the property for the making of iron.

Our borough authorities had a breezy time at their special meeting on Tuesday evening. The controversy was over the dismissal of the lamp-lighter, and there was a conflict of jurisdiction between Burgess and the Town Council. The former claimed the authority and deemed it his duty to remove the officer for neglect of duty and insubordination. The council refused to ratify the action of the Burgess and thereby endorsed the committee on lights and the lamp-lighter. Mr. Tipton resigned his position, which, independent of the merits of this controversy of which we know

POST OFFICE PLANS HOLIDAY

Clarence L. Schwartz Sr., Littlestown postmaster, has announced that Tuesday, New Year's Day, there will be no regular deliveries or window service offered by the local post office. However, special deliveries and perishables will be taken to their destinations.

Two children were baptized by the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor, during the Holy Communion service on Sunday in Centenary Methodist Church. They were, Robin Lynn Arter, daughter of Edgar Leroy Jr. and Helen Woolf Arter, born November 28 in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, and Robert Leslie Woolf III, son of Robert Leslie Jr. and Sadie Frances Woolf, born June 3, 1961, in the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore. The parents were the baptismal sponsors.

The Rev. Mr. Jones delivered a meditation entitled "And Now, Tomorrow" and read the epistle lesson from Galatians 4:1-7 and the gospel lesson from Matthew 1:18-25. The Senior Choir sang an anthem with Mrs. Estella Furlow at the organ. The altar flowers were placed by the Official Board. Those who wish to place altar flowers for the next three months should place their names or other designation on the floral chart in the vestibule and give the needed information to the pastor.

The first rehearsal of the new year of the Senior Choir of Centenary Church will be held on Tuesday, January 8, at 6:30 p.m. This will be an important rehearsal, and all members are urged to be present.

The annual New Year's Day shooting match will be held at the Littlestown Fish and Game Farm, near town, Tuesday, beginning at 1 p.m. Twelve-gauge guns will be used and shells will be furnished. A Narrow Escape: On Tuesday evening, as the Baltimore excursion train was returning from Baltimore, a short stop was made at Valley Junction, when Frank Sionaker of this place walked out on the platform. He accidentally fell between two cars, but he managed to hug the ties so closely, that although four cars passed over him he escaped without injury, except slight bruises on his back and general soreness, which he received from his fall. One of his companions missed him, and calling conductor Sheads' attention to it, he stopped the train and brought Mr. Sionaker home with the party.

Decorations at the home of John D. Lawver, 280 Barlow St., won third prize of $30 in the Chamber of Commerce home decorating contest. The star, the illuminated word "Holy Night" and a Nativity scene on the lawn were the chief features of the display. (Times photo)

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

ANOTHER GHOST STORY
The following ghost story, which is considered more or less authentic, is centered in the old covered bridge that once spanned Conewago Creek, on the Hanover-Littlestown road, near the old Kitzmiller Mill — where the Dudley Digges tragedy took place.

The account included in this column was taken from an undated clipping from the "Hanover Herald" on file in the Lancaster County Historical Society.

"Spook Story" — As ghost stories have been the sensational and popular topic of town talk for some months, we have been induced to publish one — a genuine, simon-pure spook story — that probably only a very few of our people have ever heard. The old frame covered bridge spanning Conewago Creek, on the Littlestown Pike, three and one-half miles west of Hanover, is haunted, and only a few persons have ever seen the spectral visitants from the land of the shades, long since departed from this mundane sphere. Our informant is a gentleman, a former resident of this place (Hanover, Pennsylvania), but for several years past residing at York, Pennsylvania.

SLEIGH DISAPPEARS
"He says that shortly before his marriage, some twenty years ago, while returning to Hanover on a cold wintry night with his lady after a visit to Littlestown, upon entering the covered bridge, his horse snorted with terror and refused to move forward. The interior of the bridge being very dark, he did not see at first what occasioned the horse's fright and refusal to go further into the bridge. However, as his eyes became accustomed to the darkness, he saw in front of him a large sleigh or sled, drawn by two powerful horses, the seats of which were arranged lengthwise and on which were seated, facing each other, probably a dozen men of almost gigantic stature, apparently military men — officers of high rank and distinction, from their appearance — being dressed in uniforms of a dark color, with long flowing capes and slouched hats. The driver of this conveyance sat on an elevated seat at the front, with whip in hand and lines loosely drawn. As the ghostly team passed out of the bridge it was so close to his buggy that his informant says that his lady — by reaching out her hand — could have touched it. At this point their horse backed the buggy down the bridge embankment to let the ghostly sleigh pass. "As it emerged from the dark-

HESSIANS IN HANOVER

bridge spanned Conewago Creek and some accident may have taken place at or near that spot. It is very possible that some of the Hessian prisoners lost their lives at that time — some of their officers being killed by violence of some sort or other — while being conveyed in a sleigh to their prison. Local tradition has it that that winter was marked by great severity of temperature and much snow. Hence the return of the unfortunate Hessians in spectral form to depict the last sad scene in their military and earthly career — the long and weary ride from the scene of their ignominious surprise and capture amid the wild Christmas revel, with humbled and broken pride and deep abjection to the prison to which the shifting fortunes of war had consigned them. All of this far from home and kindred — in a strange country.

VERSIONS DIFFER
"There are some things beyond the kin of human knowledge and wisdom — of the occult world, as it is described. This remarkable vision or phantom that appeared on the night in question to our informant and his companion — although bordering somewhat on the marvelous, — would seem to bear conclusive evidence that the spirits of the departed do at times return to former earthly scenes and make themselves known even to the skeptical and unbelieving."

This somewhat remarkable story is still told by various old citizens living in the general locality of Kitzmiller's Mill — but needless to say the versions differ. Essentially, however, all present the same facts — in other words they agree on all the main points. The sleigh, men in dark uniforms, powerful horses and the utter silence — these are the highlights of the story. One old man, as a boy in his teens, saw the phantom sleigh with its ghostly occupants, one cold winter night, when he was searching for a cow that had strayed in the vicinity of the old bridge. His story was the same essentially speaking, as that of the man and woman who saw the same ghostly sleigh — also on a winter evening. Thus it goes — who can prove or disprove this strange tale. FIGHTING IS CONTINUING IN CONGO AREA
By ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Fighting was reported continuing today on the outskirts of the town of Kamina, in the north-west Congo.

The U.N. command in Leopoldville said units of a Swedish battalion and a Ghanaian company were under fire.

The world organization claimed the capture of Kamina town Sunday afternoon after Ghanaian troops broke out of the nearby former Belgian base. But messages reaching Leopoldville this morning said three Katangan companies were still in the town Sunday night, the United Nations said.

Ghanaian troops were reported by the United Nations to have captured a road and rail junction about 15 miles from Kamina, while Swedish troops were said to have taken intact about 10 miles of railroad track to the east.

As the U.N. forces consolidated their lightning military victory, the U.N. command gave Katanga pilots until noon Tuesday to surrender themselves and their planes.

A U.N. message to Katangan pilots of both civil and military planes ordered them to fly their aircraft to the U.N. air base of Manono between 6 a.m. and noon. All Katangan planes which have not been surrendered by that time will be destroyed wherever they are found, the U.N. command said.

The United Nations said earlier that Swedish jet fighters had almost completely eliminated the Katanga air force, destroying two British Vampire jets and four or five converted Harvard trainers on the ground.

A!! Agree Rocketing Taxes In United States Too High

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The tax burden has been called too heavy by everyone from President Kennedy down to the lowliest taxpayer. It will be up for debate soon in Congress, many state legislatures and numerous local governing bodies.

Just how heavy is it?

The amount and impact has been collected by the Tax Foundation, a private nonprofit organization keeping an eye on such matters. In the biennial publication, Facts and Figures on Government Finance, out today, the foundation looks at the total burden, how it is spent, how the public debt grows.

UP $3 BILLION

The totals are pretty high — the taxes, the spending, the debt. You might find them a help in understanding the pros and cons as Congress discusses whether the federal tax rates can or can't be cut, and if so how much.

In fiscal 1962 the Tax Foundation puts total government tax receipts at $140 billion, up $3 billion in the year. This includes federal, state and local collections. In 1950, these governments collected $54.8 billion.

President Kennedy says that while much of this is necessary to provide for defense and civil services, it still takes quite a chunk out of the purchasing power of American consumers and business firms that could be used to speed up economic growth.

The three levels of government spent $174 billion in fiscal 1962, the Foundation estimates. This is $10 billion more than in 1961 and compares with $70.3 billion in 1950.

Those who contend government should spend still more now, if it wants business to get out its present sluggish growth, hold that much of the $174 billion went towards keeping many individuals at work and many firms producing more than they otherwise would.

The Foundation puts the gross debt of federal, state and local governments at the end of fiscal 1962 at $379 billion, up $15 billion in the year, and comparing with $289 billion in 1952.

DEBT STAGGERING

The debt total, with state and local components estimated by the Foundation, shows the federal tab as $298 billion, the local debt as $59 billion, and the state as nearly $22 billion. (The federal since the end of fiscal 1962 has risen to more than $304 billion.)

Statisticians like to reduce these gross figures down to the average person or the average family. This can be done by dividing the totals by the latest figures or estimates on the number of persons or family units in the United States.

This means little, particularly in the matter of taxes, since few persons pay the average figures. But the foundation has done the arithmetic and here is how the tax burden, government spending and debt figures out for each of the family units now estimated to

QUADS BORN SUNDAY BUT 3 DIE QUICKLY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The wife of an aerospace engineer gave birth to quadruplets Sunday but three of them died Sunday night within 11 hours of their birth which was three months premature. The fourth, a boy, was reported in critical condition today.

"We were both told together (of the deaths)," said the father, Alvin Spector, 27. "Of course we were very sad to hear it. There was nothing we could do. The hospital did everything they could. We just had to accept the fact."

The three boys and a girl were the first children born to the Spectors, childhood sweethearts who married two years ago.

JUST TOO WEAK

Doctors at Jefferson Hospital

did everything possible to pull the children through but they were too weak to make it. Their weights ranged from 1 pound, 9 1/2 ounces to 1 pound, 12 1/4 ounces.

The mother, Vivian, 23, gave birth to the first child, Baby Boy "A", at 10:10 a.m. followed by Baby Boy "B" at 10:11, Baby Girl "C" at 10:14 and Baby Boy "D" at 10:19.

Baby Boy "A" died at 7:34 p.m. Baby Boy "D" died at 7:53 p.m. Baby Girl "C" died at 8:48 p.m.

The four babies had been placed in incubators immediately.

MOTHER OKAY

Mrs. Spector was reported in satisfactory condition. Her husband, employed at the U.S. Naval Air Development Center in near-by Johnstown, stayed with her at the hospital overnight.

"We were both taken (by the deaths)," said Spector. "We weren't surprised because the doctors never really were optimistic. It is unusual for them to live when they are born that premature. But then my wife and I felt maybe they would (live)."

Spector said he and his wife had no idea she would give birth to quadruplets.

"We thought we may have twins," he explained. "It was a real surprise. It would have been real swell for us (had they lived)."

The doctor said she was carrying large for the month and it was possible she may have twins since there is a history of twins in her family.

The Spectors are the fifth quadruplet birth on record in Philadelphia. Quadruplets occur once every 620,000 births.

The Spector quads were the first in the Philadelphia area since four girls were born in March, 1961, to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cutaiar 3d of suburban Malvern. The Cutaiar girls weighed between 3 and 3 1/2 pounds at birth. They weigh nearly 30 pounds today and recently celebrated their second Christmas in fine health.

4 KILLED IN 'PIKE CRASH SUNDAY ON ICE

HARRISBURG (AP) — A two-car collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Sunday near Harrisburg claimed four lives — three New Yorkers and one Pennsylvanian. Four others were injured.

Investigators said snow contributed to the accident at the Harrisburg-West Interchange.

Dead were David C. Snyder, 26, Allentown, operator of one car; Paul R. Cohen, 20, New York City; Christine A. Peuti, 19, Uniondale, N.Y.; and Lewis Goldwyn, 18, Bronx, N.Y.

They were pronounced dead at the scene.

4 IN HOSPITAL

Admitted to Harrisburg Hospital were Joan Pirelli, 19, Sudbury, Mass., critical; Gerald Cooke, 19, Forest Hills, N.Y., serious; Albert Vass, 26, Carlisle, and Constance Fabian, 21, Union Deposit, Pa., both satisfactory.

State police said the three Pennsylvanians were in the Snyder car.

It was not determined who was driving the second auto.

Investigators reported the second car was attempting to pass a truck when it ran out of control, crossed the median strip and skidded into the path of the Snyder vehicle.

CONSIDERED "SAFE"

State police said the snow probably continued the momentum of the skid after the auto crossed

Nearby Couple Is Killed In Crash

JESSUP, Ga. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Couch Jr., prominent Waynesboro, Pa., couple, were killed in a head-on automobile collision near here Sunday.

The wife, Ellen, 47, was driving at the time and lost control of their automobile as she attempted to pass a vehicle and collided head on with another automobile traveling in the opposite direction, state police said.

The accident occurred on U. S. 301 about 10 miles south of Jessup about 1:45 p.m. The Pennsylvanians were traveling alone.

Couch, 49, was sales manager of the surface grinding department of the Landis Tool Co. at Waynesboro. They had been visiting relatives in the south and were en route home.

No one in the other automobile was injured seriously.

Princess Soraya of Iran arrived at Mexico City by airliner and left immediately by auto to spend a short vacation at nearby Cuernavaca.

The former queen of Shahn Mohammed Reza Pahlevi said she planned to spend New Year's at the home of Italian-born industrialist Bruno Pagliai and his wife, actress Merle Oberon.

the medial strip.

The passing lane in that section of the turnpike had some snow in spots, investigators said, but the road was considered safe enough for the posted 50-mile-an-hour speed limit.

The turnpike speed limit under normal conditions is 65 miles an hour.

STABBING OF YOUTH PROBED

BAXLEY, Ga. (AP) — Authorities said they expect developments today in the stabbing of a Pennsylvania youth whose car had been bumped off the highway by hecklers in an old model automobile.

The victim was identified by sheriff J. B. Carter as Nicholas Matthew Cascario of Bangor, Pa., a 19-year-old sophomore at Penn State.

He also revealed Sunday that a car has been found answering the description of the older vehicle "and we think it's local."

Cascario was en route home from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., accompanied by Dan Fiorot, 22, also of Bangor.

Carter gave this sequence of events as related by Fiorot, who was being held as a material witness:

The two Pennsylvania men were traveling north on U. S. 1 Saturday night when the hecklers began harassing them, passing them at high speed, later dropping behind and bumping them from the rear.

The hecklers bumped the car driven by Cascario off the highway about six miles north of Baxley and the Pennsylvania youth got out and approached the old

2 Teen-age Boys Held In Slaying

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two teen-age boys face a hearing Wednesday in the slaying of another youth at a North Philadelphia hoagie shop.

Rubin Jones, 17, and Willie Garis, 16, were charged Sunday with the fatal shooting of Jerry Carter, 19, Saturday night.

Police said Jones fired the fatal shot.

Detectives said Carter and the two other youths belonged to rival juvenile gangs that had been involved in several fist fights during the last week.

Carter was a Negro as are Jones and Garis, police said.

SEATTLE MAY LOSE $500,000 GAMBLING FEES

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Police under which Seattle tolerates gambling devices and reaps $500,000 a year in license fees will end on New Year's day if Mayor Gordon Clinton has his way. The City Council has other ideas.

Under the policy, initiated in 1947, the city licenses pinball machines, punchboards, card games and other such devices. But state law makes gambling a felony and the state Constitution outlaws lotteries, which the courts have held to include all gambling.

Clinton, an ex-FBI agent and long-time scoutmaster, contends the city should comply with the law, and has ordered all gambling stopped at 6 a.m. New Year's

OPPOSED BY COUNCIL

The City Council has voted 6-2 to keep the tolerance policy in force until March 15 in the hope the legislature will have done something by then to get the city off the hook. The legislature convenes Jan. 14.

Police Chief Frank Ramon, who takes his orders from Clinton, says a 30-man squad will start a four-day crackdown on New Year's morning. He says anyone caught operating or participating in a game of chance will be hauled off to jail, booked and allowed to post bond ranging from $250 to $300. Not even church and fraternity bingo games will be exempt.

ISSUE LICENSES

Meanwhile, the city continues to issue licenses, in accordance with the council's decision.

Most tavern operators contacted in a spot check said they planned to renew their pinball licenses in the hope they would be permitted to continue operating the machines.

Miss Linda Shuyler returned on Wednesday to the Hahnemann Hospital School of Nursing, Philadelphia, after a week's vacation with her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yohe.

Miss Connie McClellan returned to the Hahnemann Hospital School of Nursing after spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McClellan.

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A Montgomery County judge has reversed the conviction of four men found guilty by a justice of the peace of violating Sunday sales laws last August.

Judge E. Arnold Forrest ruled Friday afternoon against Philip Wessner, assistant manager of the Montgomery Mart in Montgomery Township and three of his salesmen, had failed to allege the sales occurred on Sunday.

Theoretically, the pinball machines are for amusement only, with the player getting additional games free if he wins. The practice, however, is to pay off in cash.

Money limits are prescribed for card rooms, but critics of the tolerance policy say they are not observed.

Ramon says any machines on which payoffs are being made will be seized when the crackdown goes into effect.

The City Council's ordinance ending tolerance on March 15 also provides for an end to pinball payoffs. Noting that the pinballs aren't supposed to pay off anyway, one letter-to-the-editor writer suggested this title:

"An ordinance for amusement only, providing for the operation of pinball machines for amusement only."

NEW DIRECTOR IS PREPARING 1964 BUDGET

By FRANK CORMIER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy has sent his new budget director back to Washington to put the finishing touches on the bulky document after three days of policy talks at the holiday White House.

Kermit Gordon sworn in Friday as chief overseer of the federal purse strings, flew back to Washington after dusk following a 90-minute conference with Kennedy.

Before departure, Gordon said some changes might yet be made in the budget for the 1964 fiscal year that begins next July 1.

It was apparent, however, that most of the key question marks were disposed of in meetings this week on tax cut plans, military spending, and legislative proposals involving aid to education and medical care for aged through Social Security.

OTHERS AT MEETING

The Kennedy-Gordon session Friday night was focused on the administration's 1963 legislative program and its effect on the forthcoming budget. Sitting in on the talks were Elmer Staats, deputy budget director, and Lawrence F. O'Brien, a key presidential adviser on congressional relations.

With this meeting, Kennedy cleared the decks of all announced appointments until after the New Year's holiday.

$79 BILLION BUDGET

Some of the final questions about the record $99 billion budget due in mid-January were resolved at a session at which Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Kennedy reviewed reviewed new education and medical care legislation they hope will "be more palatable" to opponents.

This was the way legislation was characterized by Celebrezze following the 2½-hour session.

Celebrezze said that basically the programs will hew to the same "underlying philosophy" of administration bills that failed to gain passage in the last Congress.

However, he indicated that some significant concessions would be made to the opposition Kennedy asked for some changes in the legislation proposed to him, but Celebrezze indicated these were not substantial.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Only one county—Lebanon—says it will not submit school district reorganization plans to meet today's deadline under the 1961 compulsory reorganization act.

The Department of Public Instruction reported over the weekend that 60 counties already have submitted their plans.

Dr. Herbert E. Bryan, director of the department's Bureau of School Reorganization, said five county plans—those of Beaver, Carbon, Lehigh, York and Venango—"are in transit" and expected to reach the department in today's mail.

Lebanon has already informed the department it will not comply with the Dec. 31 deadline.

The county board intends to await the outcome of moves to amend or repeal the law in the 1963 General Assembly.

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Judge David E. Groshens, declaring the streets should be safe for our children in daylight, has sentenced a missile worker to jail in the traffic death of an 11-year-old girl.

Groshens imposed the 16-to-32 month sentence Friday on William Hitchcock, 46. Hitchcock was accused of driving the car that struck and killed Susan Leamy Oct. 27 as she carried her brother Paul, 5, piggyback. The boy is still hospitalized.

SEATTLE MAY LOSE $500,000 GAMBLING FEES

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Policy under which Seattle tolerates gambling devices and reaps $500,000 a year in license fees will end on New Year's day if Mayor Gordon Clinton has his way. The City Council has other ideas.

Under the policy, initiated in 1947, the city licenses pinball machines, punchboards, card games and other such devices. But state law makes gambling a felony and the state Constitution outlaws lotteries, which the courts have held to include all gambling.

Clinton, an ex-FBI agent and long-time scoutmaster, contends the city should comply with the law, and has ordered all gambling stepped at 8 a.m. New Year's Day.

OPPOSED BY COUNCIL

The City Council has voted 6-2 to keep the tolerance policy in force until March 15 in the hope the legislature will have done something by then to get the city off the hook. The legislature convenes Jan. 14.

Police Chief Frank Ramon, who takes his orders from Clinton, says a 30-man squad will start a four-day crackdown on New Year's morning. He says anyone caught operating or participating in a game of chance will be hauled off to jail, booked and allowed to post bond ranging from $250 to $300. Not even church and fraternity bingo games will be exempt.

ISSUE LICENSES

Meanwhile, the city continues to issue licenses, in accordance with the council's decision.

Most tavern operators contacted in a spot check said they planned to renew their pinball licenses in the hope they would be permitted to continue operating the machines.

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL
ORRTANNA — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lochbaum and J. C. Lochbaum had as visitors during the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brubaker and family, Chambersburg R. 5, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Biesecker and children, Jay Jr., Paula and Dorothy of Florin, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wentz and sons, Stephen and Dennis, Hanover, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chapman, parents of Mrs. Wentz.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tressler spent Monday and Christmas Day with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thomas Jr., and son, Mark, in York.

Miss Linda Shuyler returned on Wednesday to the Hahnemann Hospital School of Nursing, Philadelphia, after a week's vacation with her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yohe.

Miss Connie McClellan returned to the Hahnemann Hospital School of Nursing after spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McClellan.

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A Montgomery County judge has reversed the conviction of four men found guilty by a justice of the peace of violating Sunday sales laws last August.

Judge E. Arnold Forrest ruled Friday information against Philip Wessner, assistant manager of the Montgomery Mart in Montgomery Township and three of his salesmen, had failed to allege the sales occurred on Sunday.

Theoretically, the pinball machines are for amusement only, with the player getting additional games free if he wins. The practice, however, is to pay off in cash.

Money limits are prescribed for card rooms, but critics of the tolerance policy say they are not observed.

Ramon says any machines on which payoffs are being made will be seized when the crackdown goes into effect.

The City Council's ordinance ending tolerance on March 15 also provides for an end to pinball payoffs. Noting that the pinballs aren't supposed to pay off any way, one letter-to-the-editor writer suggested this title:

"An ordinance for amusement only, providing for the operation of pinball machines for amusement only."

NEW DIRECTOR IS PREPARING 1964 BUDGET

By FRANK CORMIER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy has sent his new budget director back to Washington to put the finishing touches on the bulky document after three days of policy talks at the holiday White House.

Kermit Gordon sworn in Friday as chief overseer of the federal purse strings, flew back to Washington after dusk following a 90-minute conference with Kennedy. Before departure, Gordon said some changes might yet be made in the budget for the 1964 fiscal year that begins next July 1.

It was apparent, however, that most of the key question marks were disposed of in meetings this week on tax cut plans, military spending, and legislative proposals involving aid to education and medical care for aged through Social Security.

OTHERS AT MEETING

The Kennedy-Gordon session Friday night was focused on the administration's 1963 legislative program and its effect on the forthcoming budget. Sitting in on the talks were Elmer Staats, deputy budget director, and Lawrence F. O'Brien, a key presidential adviser on congressional relations.

With this meeting, Kennedy cleared the decks of all announced appointments until after the New Year's holiday.

$79 BILLION BUDGET

Some of the final questions about the record $99 billion budget due in mid-January were resolved at a session at which Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Kennedy reviewed new education and medical care legislation they hope will "be more palatable" to opponents.

This was the way legislation was characterized by Celebrezze following the 2½-hour session.

Celebrezze said that basically the programs will hew to the same "underlying philosophy" of administration bills that failed to gain passage in the last Congress. However, he indicated that some significant concessions would be made to the opposition.

Kennedy asked for some changes in the legislation proposed to him, but Celebrezze indicated these were not substantial.

A!! Agree Rocketing Taxes In United States Too High

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The tax burden has been called too heavy by everyone from President Kennedy down to the lowest taxpayer. It will be up for debate soon in Congress, many state legislatures and numerous local governing bodies.

Just how heavy is it?

The amount and impact has been collected by the Tax Foundation, a private nonprofit organization keeping an eye on such matters. In the biennial publication, Facts and Figures on Government Finance, out today, the foundation looks at the total burden, how it is spent, how the public debt grows.

UP $3 BILLION

The totals are pretty high — the taxes, the spending, the debt. You might find them a help in understanding the pros and cons as Congress discusses whether the federal tax rates can or can't be cut, and if so how much.

In fiscal 1962 the Tax Foundation puts total government tax receipts at $140 billion, up $3 billion in the year. This includes federal, state and local collections. In 1950, these governments collected $54.8 billion.

President Kennedy says that while much of this is necessary to provide for defense and civil services, it still takes quite a chunk out of the purchasing power of American consumers and business firms that could be used to speed up economic growth.

The three levels of government spent $174 billion in fiscal 1962, the Foundation estimates. This is $10 billion more than in 1961 and compares with $70.3 billion in 1950.

Those who contend government should spend still more now, if it wants business to get out of its present sluggish growth, hold that much of the $174 billion went towards keeping many individuals at work and many firms producing more than they otherwise would.

The Foundation puts the gross debt of federal, state and local governments at the end of fiscal 1962 at $379 billion, up $15 billion in the year, and comparing with $289 billion in 1952.

DEBT STAGGERING

The debt total, with state and local components estimated by the Foundation, shows the federal tab as $298 billion, the local debt as $59 billion, and the state as nearly $22 billion. (The federal since the end of fiscal 1952 has risen to more than $304 billion.)

Statisticians like to reduce these gross figures down to the average person or the average family. This can be done by dividing the totals by the latest figures or estimates on the number of persons or family units in the United States.

This means little, particularly in the matter of taxes, since few persons pay the average figures. But the foundation has done the arithmetic and here is how the tax burden, government spending and debt figures out for each of the family units now estimated to

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The wife of an aerospace engineer gave birth to quadruplets Sunday but three of them died Sunday night within 11 hours of their birth which was three months premature. The fourth, a boy, was reported in critical condition today.

"We were both told together (of the deaths)," said the father, Alvin Spector, 27. "Of course we were very sad to hear it. There was nothing we could do. The hospital did everything they could. We just had to accept the fact."

The three boys and a girl were the first children born to the Spectors, childhood sweethearts who married two years ago.

be in the United States.

$3,005 PER FAMILY

The share of each family in total taxes collected in fiscal 1962 is put at $3,005, compared with $1,394 in 1950. Government spending comes to $3,739 for each family, against $1,800 in 1950. And each family's share of the debt of the three forms of government is $8,129, compared with $7,100 in 1952.

This isn't a happy thought for the new year. But a lot of other things are happier now than in 1950 — incomes, savings, total personal assets all higher. So, try to have a — HAPPY NEW YEAR did everything possible to pull the children through but they were too weak to make it. Their weights ranged from 1 pound, 9 1/2 ounces to 1 pound, 12 1/4 ounces.

The mother, Vivian, 23, gave birth to the first child, Baby Boy "A", at 10 10 a.m. followed by Baby Boy "B" at 10:11. Baby Girl "C" at 10:14 and Baby Boy "D" at 10:19.

Baby Boy "A" died at 7:34 p.m., Baby Boy "D" died at 7:53 p.m. Baby Girl "C" died at 8:48 p.m.

The four babies had been placed in incubators immediately.

MOTHER OKAY

Mrs. Spector was reported in satisfactory condition. Her husband, employed at the U.S. Naval Air Development Center in near-Johnstown, stayed with her at the hospital overnight.

"We were both taken (by the deaths)," said Spector. "We weren't surprised because the doctors never really were optimistic. It is unusual for them to live when they are born that premature. But then my wife and I felt maybe they would live."

Spector said he and his wife had no idea she would give birth to quadruplets.

"We thought we may have twins," he explained. "It was a real surprise. It would have been real swell for us (had they lived)."

The doctor said she was carrying large for the month and it was possible she may have twins since there is a history of twins in her family."

The Spectors are the fifth quadruplet birth on record in Philadelphia. Quadruplets occur once every 620,000 births.

The Spector quads were the first in the Philadelphia area since four girls were born in March, 1961, to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cutajar 3d of suburban Malvern. The Cutajar girls weighed between 3 and 3 1/2 pounds at birth. They weigh nearly 30 pounds today and recently celebrated their second Christmas in fine health.

4 KILLED IN 'PIKE CRASH SUNDAY ON ICE

HARRISBURG (AP) — A two-car collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Sunday near Harrisburg claimed four lives — three New Yorkers and one Pennsylvanian. Four others were injured.

Investigators said snow contributed to the accident at the Harrisburg-West interchange.

Dead were David C. Snyder, 26, Allentown, operator of one car; Paul R. Cohen, 20, New York City; Christine A. Peuti, 19, Uniondale, N.Y.; and Lewis Goldwyn, 18, Bronx, N.Y.

They were pronounced dead at the scene.

4 IN HOSPITAL

Admitted to Harrisburg Hospital were Joan Pirello, 19, Sudbury, Mass., critical; Gerald Cooke, 19, Forest Hills, N.Y., serious; Albert Vass, 26, Carlisle, and Constance Fabian, 21, Union Deposit, Pa., both satisfactory.

State police said the three Pennsylvanians were in the Snyder car.

It was not determined who was driving the second auto.

Investigators reported the second car was attempting to pass a truck when it ran out of control, crossed the medial strip and skidded into the path of the Snyder vehicle.

CONSIDERED "SAFE"

State police said the snow probably continued the momentum of the skid after the auto crossed

Nearby Couple Is Killed In Crash

JESSUP, Ga. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Couch Jr., prominent Waynesboro, Pa., couple, were killed in a head-on automobile collision near here Sunday.

The wife, Ellen, 47, was driving at the time and lost control of their automobile as she attempted to pass a vehicle and collided head on with another automobile traveling in the opposite direction, state police said.

The accident occurred on U. S. 301 about 10 miles south of Jessup about 1:45 p.m. The Pennsylvanians were traveling alone.

Couch, 49, was sales manager of the surface grinding department of the Landis Tool Co. at Waynesboro. They had been visiting relatives in the south and were en route home.

No one in the other automobile was injured seriously.

Princess Soraya of Iran arrived at Mexico City by airliner and left immediately by auto to spend a short vacation at nearby Cuernavaca.

STABBING OF YOUTH PROBED

BAXLEY, Ga. (AP) — Authorities said they expect developments today in the stabbing of a Pennsylvania youth whose car had been bumped off the highway by hecklers in an old model automobile.

The victim was identified by sheriff J. B. Carter as Nicholas Matthew Cascario of Bangor, Pa., a 19-year-old sophomore at Penn State.

He also revealed Sunday that a car has been found answering the description of the older vehicle "and we think it's local."

Cascario was en route home from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., accompanied by Dan Fiorot, 22, also of Bangor.

Carter gave this sequence of events as related by Fiorot, who was being held as a material witness:

The two Pennsylvania men were traveling north on U. S. 1 Saturday night when the hecklers began harassing them, passing them at high speed, later dropping behind and bumping them from the rear.

The hecklers bumped the car driven by Cascario off the highway about six miles north of Baxley and the Pennsylvania youth got out and approached the old

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two teen-age boys face a hearing Wednesday in the slaying of another youth at a North Philadelphia hoagie shop.

Rubin Jones, 17, and Willie Garris, 16, were charged Sunday with the fatal shooting of Jerry Carter, 19, Saturday night.

Police said Jones fired the fatal shot.

Detectives said Carter and the two other youths belonged to rival juvenile gangs that had been involved in several fist fights during the last week.

Carter was a Negro as are Jones and Garris, police said.

ASSEMBLY TO CONVEENE ON JANUARY 1

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 1963 General Assembly convenes Tuesday, New Year's Day, with a Republican at the head of the House and a Democrat at the head of Senate.

But that's only a temporary arrangement.

Officially, Democratic Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis will preside over the Senate until the Jan. 15 inauguration day for Gov.-elect William W. Scranton.

SHAFTER TO TAKE OVER

Then he will give his gavel to his successor, Lt. Gov.-elect Raymond Shafter, a former state senator from Crawford County.

Rep. W. Stuart Helm, R-Armstrong, previously was elected House speaker at a caucus of GOP assemblymen.

Assemblymen will seat their members Tuesday and formally elect and install their officers—both routine matters—and hear a final state of the commonwealth message from Gov. Lawrence.

Then they are expected to adjourn until the week of the inauguration.

REPUBLICANS TINT

There are no plans to introduce legislation of the Scranton administration before the inauguration and Scranton cannot submit cabinet appointments for confirmation before he is installed into office.

This new assembly has a definite, though not decisive, Republican tint.

The GOP control the House, 108-101, and the Senate, 26-23, with a vacancy to be filled in each chamber.

FIRST SINCE '56

The vacancies were created by the deaths of Republican legislators Samuel B. Wolfe, Union County senator, and Samuel Denison, Jefferson County representative. No date has been set as yet for a special election to fill these vacancies.

This marks the first time since the mid-term of former Gov. George M. Leader in 1956 that the Republicans controlled both chambers of the legislature.

And it marks the first time since 1952 they controlled both the General Assembly and the governor's office—that the mid-term of former Gov. John S. Fine.

But how workable are their majorities is another question. It takes 105 votes to pass a bill in the House and 26 votes in the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allegheny Airlines flew 16 per cent more passengers and freight during November this year than it did during the same month last year, the line reports.

Allegheny, which serves New England, Ohio, Michigan and the Middle Atlantic States, said in its report Friday this was the ninth straight month of gains in both passenger and freight.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
PURSUIT OF LOVELINESS.

What would you say are the special qualities of a truly lovely woman? Surely she has developed her potentials for beauty and charm. Thus she is attractive and winning.

But has she not also cultivated an informed mind and fine inner traits? And does she not use those talents for the benefit of others?

Contrary to some ideas, the pursuit of loveliness is not a vain conceit. There is not a trace of vanity in it. Actually it is a woman's duty to make the most of herself.

In that way she brings enjoyment into the lives of all who know her. Furthermore, she is able to assume her share of the increasing demands and responsibilities imposed by life in our times on us all. So she is a person of value.

Loveliness, therefore is a state devoutly to be wished. And the key is selfishness.

If you always try to please the eyes, ears and feelings of those around you, and if you never cease to use your influence for good in this shrinking world, your loveliness increases with each passing year. It is the attribute that age cannot wither, for time is its ally.

ASSEMBLY TO CONVENE ON JANUARY 1

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 1963 General Assembly convenes Tuesday, New Year's Day, with a Republican at the head of the House and a Democrat at the head of Senate.

But that's only a temporary arrangement. Officially, Democratic Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis will preside over the Senate until the Jan. 15 inauguration day for Gov.-elect William W. Scranton.

SHAFTER TO TAKE OVER

Then he will give his gavel to his successor, Lt. Gov.-elect Raymond Shafter, a former state senator from Crawford County.

Rep. W. Stuart Helm, R-Armstrong, previously was elected House speaker at a caucus of GOP assemblymen.

Assemblymen will seat their members Tuesday and formally elect and install their officers—both routine matters—and hear a final state of the commonwealth message from Gov. Lawrence.

Then they are expected to adjourn until the week of the inauguration.

REPUBLICANS TINT

There are no plans to introduce legislation of the Scranton administration before the inauguration and Scranton cannot submit cabinet appointments for confirmation before he is installed into office.

This new assembly has a definite, though not decisive, Republican tint.

The GOP control the House, 108-101, and the Senate, 26-23, with a vacancy to be filled in each chamber.

FIRST SINCE '56

The vacancies were created by the deaths of Republican legislators Samuel B. Wolfe, Union County senator, and Samuel Denison, Jefferson County representative. No date has been set as yet for a special election to fill these vacancies.

This marks the first time since the mid-term of former Gov. George M. Leader in 1956 that the Republicans controlled both chambers of the legislature.

And it marks the first time since 1952 they controlled both the General Assembly and the governor's office—that the mid-term of former Gov. John S. Fine.

But how workable are their majorities is another question. It takes 105 votes to pass a bill in the House and 26 votes in the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allegheny Airlines flew 16 per cent more passengers and freight during November this year than it did during the same month last year, the line reports.

Allegheny, which serves New England, Ohio, Michigan and the Middle Atlantic States, said in its report Friday this was the ninth straight month of gains in both passenger and freight.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

PURSUIT OF LOVELINESS.

What would you say are the special qualities of a truly lovely woman? Surely she has developed her potentials for beauty and charm. Thus she is attractive and winning.

But has she not also cultivated an informed mind and fine inner traits? And does she not use those talents for the benefit of others?

Contrary to some ideas, the pursuit of loveliness is not a vain conceit. There is not a trace of vanity in it. Actually it is a woman's duty to make the most of herself.

In that way she brings enjoyment into the lives of all who know her. Furthermore, she is able to assume her share of the increasing demands and responsibilities imposed by life in our times on us all. So she is a person of value.

Loveliness, therefore is a state devoutly to be wished. And the key is unselfishness.

If you always try to please the eyes, ears and feelings of those around you, and if you never cease to use your influence for good in this shrinking world, your loveliness increases with each passing year. It is the attribute that age cannot wither, for time is its ally.

- 8 IN FAMILY TO BEGIN NEW LIFE AT ORPHANAGE
KANNAPOLIS, N.C. (AP)—Eight brothers and sisters begin a new life together today at the Church of God orphanage due to the efforts of a welfare worker, Miss Andrea Triplett.
Another brother, now 10 months old, will join them when he is 2.
On Oct. 7, Abner Avery Bentley, 67, a retired carpenter, and his wife, 40, packed their children into the family truck for a trip over a winding road near Morgantown.
The children were moved out of their four-room home to the home of an uncle. He was unable to carry the heavy burden and they were scattered to six foster homes in mid-November.
Miss Triplett, 21, the Caldwell County welfare worker who handled the case, found that the Church of God orphanage would accept all the Bentley orphans except 10-month-old Terry Wayne. "I talked to them as a group. I explained to them this may be the only way they could remain together," Miss Triplett said.
The children are Abner Jr., 14; R. C., 13; Bonnie, 10; Jerry, 9; Larlene, 7; A. B., 6; H. T., 5; Danny Gene, 4, and Terry Wayne.
LONDON (AP)—Prospects of a thaw in southern England brought hope of relief today after a week-end of the worst blizzards in memory.
The big freeze spread over much of continental Europe. Rising temperatures in Austria and France brought the danger of avalanches around the crowded ski centers.
Deep snowdrifts brought traffic almost to a standstill in most of southern England. The weather man predicted that a belt of rain moving across the area later today might bring milder weather.
At least five deaths in Britain were attributed to the weather. A man and his wife froze to death in their car buried under a 15-foot snowdrift in a rural spot in Dorset County. The couple's daughter, grandson and another man were rescued unconscious and in critical condition.
Helicopters rescued a number of stranded travelers.
Traffic in and out of main cities was halted completely. Snow lay so deep on some highways that attempts to clear it were abandoned.
RING IN THE NEW
VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—The Cecil E. Cooks' clocks will ring in the New Year in a big way.
The Cooks are clock collectors. They have 38 clocks in the 10 rooms of their home—no two set at the same time. The clocks will start bonging and chiming around midnight and will continue for some time thereafter.
A snowflake can be simple or fantastically complex. Most are symmetrical with six sides or six points, but they can assume the shape of prisms, branched stars, needles, pyramids and combinations of these figures.
Former Yankee pitching star Bob Turley, said conditionally to the Los Angeles Angels, had a 4.57 earned run average for 69 innings with the Yankees last season.

General Hay Objects to Plan on Guard
INDIAN TOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—State Adj. Gen. Malcolm Hay objects to four aspects of the Defense Department's announced plans to reorganize the National Guard.
Hay said Sunday his objections pertain to enlistment standards, commander authority, deactivated missile men and an impending reorganization of Army combat divisions.
The Defense Department revealed its reorganization proposal to guard officials earlier this month.
STILL UNDER STUDY
However, the only known Pennsylvania features are that both the 28th Infantry Division of some 10,000 men and the 104th Armored Cavalry Regiment of some 2,000 men are to be increased in size.
Guard officials say the other specific details have not been disclosed as yet because some areas still are "to be resolved."
The realignment currently is under study by the Committee on National Guard Affairs of the national governor's conference. This committee is expected to seek a meeting with the Defense Department early next month to discuss the areas of differences, Hay said.
STATES OBJECTIONS
The adjutant general had this to say about his differences:
"First, guard enlistment standards under the plan are 'in excess of those required for active Army draftees.'
"The enlistment standards of the National Guard already are equal or exceed those required of the draftees who make up the bulk of the active army," he said.
Next, Hay believed there is a question whether the major guard commanders have the authority under the plan to shift personnel among subordinate units.
HAY GOING OUT
He saw "no reason" why these commanders should not be allowed to shift personnel "to areas better able to use them" when the situation demands.
He said he also is concerned over the disposition of some skilled missile men currently assigned to Nike Ajax units labeled for deactivation. They have no appropriate assignments pending, he said.
Finally, said Hay, the plan does not take into consideration the impending reorganization of combat divisions—called ROAD—designed to increase their efficiency.
Hay's tenure as adjutant general expires with the inauguration of Gov.-elect William W. Scranton.
Scranton has designated Col. Thomas R. White Jr., commander of the 1st Battle Group, 11th Infantry Regiment in Philadelphia, as Hay's successor.
White conferred with Hay on the realignment Saturday.

Robbed Woman Is Aided By Detectives

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Christmas spirit is still in evidence in the Philadelphia area.

Majorite Kresiman, of Cleveland was able to complete a trip to New York City Sunday because of the generosity of a group of Philadelphia detectives.

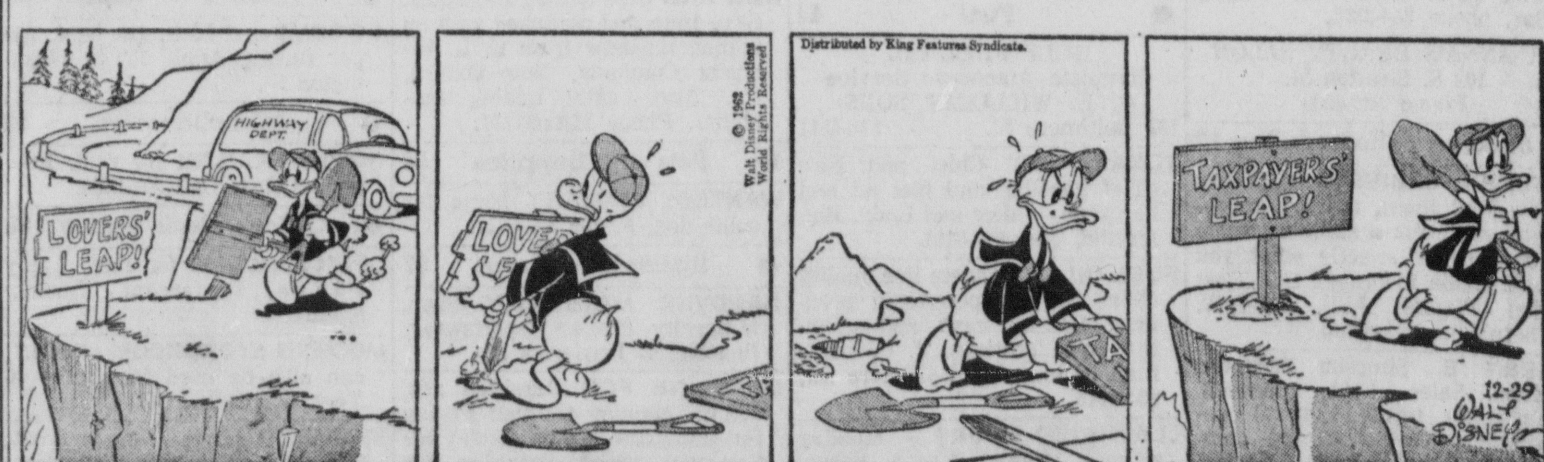

Mrs. Kresiman was walking from the Reading Co. station to the Pennsylvania Railroad station when two youths grabbed her purse containing $12 and her ticket for New York, police said.

Detectives learned of the incident, pooled resources, bought her another ticket, handed her $12 and put her on an early morning bus.

CHRIST CHURCH PREPARATORY SERVICE HELD

The midwinter preparatory service was held in Christ United Church of Christ Sunday, Ivan E. Arentz, Richard E. Weikert, Irvin C. Markle, Allen E. Hahn, William J. Nunemaker, Freddie L. Dutterer, Donald L. Wolfe and Clair R. Markle served as ushers. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, and an anthem was sung by the choir. The bulletins were given in memory of F. S. and Sarah E. Markle by their children. Those wishing to receive a pen by making a contribution to the building fund should contact Ralph I. Unger. It is requested that, in order to aid the financial secretary, members write their names on next year's envelopes for a few weeks until he becomes acquainted with associating the names with the numbers.

The King's Daughters Class is taking orders for memorial plates of the old Christ Church at a cost of $2 each. Those interested should contact Mrs. Clyde L. Sterner. The class is also selling vanilla and orders may be placed with Mrs. Sterner.

The consistory will meet at the home of Mervin K. Myers, Littlestown R. 2, on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Women's Guild will also meet at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday at the parsonage, E. King St. The January leaders will be Mrs. G. Howard Koons, Mrs. Lester L. Hilker and Mrs. Minnie Schwartz. Holy Communion services will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

TO HAVE DEVOTIONS

The Littlestown Ministerium will be in charge of the daily devotions on radio station WHVR, Hanover, this week at 8:45 a.m. The schedule has been arranged as follows: Tuesday, the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church; Wednesday, the Rev. John C. Chatlos, pastor of St. James' United Church of Christ, along the Hanover Rd.; Thursday, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ; Friday, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ United Church of Christ. The devotions this morning were in charge of the Rev. Lawrence H. Roller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snyder, Arlington, Va., visited over the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Snyder, Prince St., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes, near town.

The nickname of the American frigate Constitution, "Old Ironsides," came from a gunner who saw solid shot bouncing off her oaken sides during a battle with the British "Guerriere" in the War of 1812.

ASK TAX CUT OF $4 BILLION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, has indicated the tax cut the administration will request of the new Congress will total more than $4 billion.

"What is required is not a small cut of $1 billion or $2 billion, but a substantial cut. A $3 billion or $4 billion cut won't do the job," Heller said in an interview Sunday on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers."

Heller described the still-unveiled administration tax plan as a big balanced program. Included, he said, will be a large reduction in the lower brackets, a cut in tax rates above 65 per cent, more incentive for investment and a reduction in corporate rates.

Opponents of tax reduction have argued that lower levies would balloon the federal deficit. On this point Heller said the choice was further deficits with a weak economy or tax reduction with some temporary deficits and a growing expanding economy.

Heller said the economy was capable of producing $30 billion to $40 billion more in goods and services without strain. This, plus full employment, would produce some $5 billion more in taxes, he said.

The Department of Agriculture established its Section of Seed and Plant Introduction in 1897.
